On reflection 1981 has been a most successful and enjoyable year, capped off by some fine wins in the interschool sporting competitions. I only hope that the academic results for 1981 can be just as successful.

The initial Prefects and Sub-Prefects were again invited to a form of leaders conference held at the end of 1980. The Headmaster chaired this event with the main purpose of the meeting being to discuss and evaluate the role of the leaders within the school community. I feel that this was a very worthwhile event as it gave those boys that attended the meeting an insight into some of the qualities required to carry out the duties of Prefects and Sub-Prefects successfully.

After having the holiday break to dwell on how the school was to be run in 1981, the initial Prefects and Sub-Prefects made their promises at the first assembly of the year.

However, as has been the policy of the school, these boys were not to be the only Prefects and Sub-Prefects for the year. We saw two of the initial Sub-Prefects, David Standish and Philip Headlam promoted to Prefects and Chris Gray, James Shugg and Jim Henry were all made Sub-Prefects.

An innovation that was introduced this year was the idea of attaching a Prefect or Sub-Prefect to each of the form groups in the Middle and Senior School. Although towards the end of the year it wasn't quite as successful as when it was first introduced I think that it has merit, especially in the lower forms, where the 6th Formers if enthusiastic enough have a lot to offer the younger members of the School. I think that this is a project, that in coming years should be continued with.

Finally I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the Prefects, Sub-Prefects and members of Staff for their continued support throughout the year. I would also like to wish all future Prefects and Sub-Prefects the best of luck in the task of acting as leaders within the school.

FROM THE HEADMASTER

CURRICULUM IN ACTION

Barbara Ward in the course of her remarkable book "The Home of Man" made two comparisons and a simple plea. Suppose, she said, that on to a lonely island of a thousand families a shipwrecked family came ashore utterly destitute; it would be quickly helped and re-established. But that is about the proportion of desperately poor people in most developing nations including Australia. Why then do we allow ghettoes to emerge which help to perpetuate all the avils of proverty?

Secondly, she gave World Bank figures for the alleviation of major distress in the world: Food and nutrition $42000 million Education $25000 million Water supply $28000 million

Urban housing $16000 million Urban transport Population $3000 million Population and hallth programs $6000 million Total $125000 million The amount of money spent on armaments each year is $250,000 million so that the funds for helping the poor over ten years could be found by halving the annual armaments bill for one year. Thirdly, Barber Ward made a plea, Would it not be possible to transfer to the world level the safeguards, bargaining powers, redistributive policies, and environmental concerns which correct market forces and are now a matter of gourse at the national

Where does the school curriculum fit into this complex question? In the social sciences in History, Geography, Economics, Social Psychology, Religion we gain the ability to grasp the problems with a serie of perspective. In Mathematics and in English we learn to express human problems in symbolic terms. If the Physical Sciences and in Computer Studies and in the variety of technical subjects we learn the skills which may lead us to the solution of specific roblems. In Aesthetic and Moral Education we develop the character and will to explore human questions and to aim at a better world.

The many other things we do at school help to create a mood of loyalty and concern, a mood that will take us out from school ready to make a positive contribution to the community and to go on making that contribution even when the going gets tough.

Those who regard curriculum theory and review as dull and pointless may have second thoughts when they consider this view of the "curriculm in action".

1982 for a thoroughly deserved respite.

Treasury officials are seldom popular with reforming politicians who have a hundred ways of spending money in order to make improvements. Schoolmasters are not much different; there are many "aids" which it would be convenient to own in abundance. But our Bursar has understood the simple principle that you cannot safely spend money which you do not have, and he has been cautious in approving requisitions. At the same time, he has supervised millions of dollars of building and developments, and has struggled with the provision of great quantities of furniture. He looked after the historic move from Macquarie Street to Sandy Bay.

When he began, Mr. Turner found the finances of the school in a shaky state; as he leaves he can be proud of the fact that the financial reports, and, above all, his accounts have been meticulous. His meeting minutes, nearly a thousand of them, have been precise and laconic without losing any item of substance. All this has been achieved with limited assistance and with little opportunity of sharing his heavy responsibility.

The advent of the Schools Commission and its demand for forms added considerably to the Bursar's work load, and in the latter years he has Mrs. Turner will be remembered for her wonderful calligraphy in the School's memorial books, and for her support in a number of other ways. The school wishes them both a happy retirement after the middle of 1982 and expresses its appreciation of their loyal service. Hutchins will been unable to share in the wider life of the school because he has been totally preoccupied with financial matters of a highly complex nature. always be grateful for the life and work of a man of modest demeanour, rare ability, and absolute integrity.

RUSSELL MORTON

he end of this year is leaving Hutchins.

Mr. Morton was born in the well known town of Gomeracha, S.A., some time after the war. He was educated at a State High School, where he was a keen tennis and table-tennis player, and later at Melbourne University. He holds a B.Sc., B.Ed., M.A.C.E. and is an A.R.A.C.I. (an Associate of the Royal Australian Chemical Institute)

After tertiary education, Mr. Morton worked as a Bio-Chemist for Commonwealth Serum Laboratories in Melbourne. He then moved to Tasmania where he did teacher training, followed by periods at Smithton High School and Scotch Oakburn College, Launceston.

In 1977 Mr. Morton arrived at Hutchins to take up the position of Senior Chemistry Master, and has also taught Mathematics during his stay. He has had a great deal of involvement in the running of the school, being the Administrative Assistant to the Headmaster, H.S.C. Moderator, in charge of scholarships and calendar production, and a year group master. For the past 3½ years he has been the master-in-charge of the school magazine, overseeing the compiling of a volume that most people feel has never been of better quality

Mr. Morton has a number of thoughts on the school and education in general. He feels that there are a variety of areas in the curriculum that need to be tightened up, making the subject clearer and easier to teach. He also feels that the chemistry lab. could be redesigned, there being a number of space problems at present. Mr. Morton says that he has learnt more about teaching at Hutchins than at any other school and has enjoyed his time at Hutchins. A thing that has impressed him about Hutchins students in particular is their friendly attitude towards masters, treating them as people and not just teachers.

Mr. Morton now moves to Ulverstone, where he will become the Director of a Christian Youth Camping Centre named "Camp Clayton". Over the last few years there have been very good chemistry results and many past and present students will always be grateful to him. The magazine committee would like to say a special "Thank you" for Mr. Morton's continued leadership throughout the year. It is on the behalf of the school that we wish him the very best of luck in the years to come.

DENNIS TURNER

Dennis Powell Turner was appointed Bursar of the Hutchins School in October, 1959. He was a Bachelor of Commerce and an Associate of the Chartered Institute of Secretaries. He learned his accounting in bank, business, and insurance company, and the school has benefited from both his theoretical knowledge and also his practical experience over a wide

He served in the war as a member of a bomb disposal company and later in various parts of the Pacific region as sapper and signaller. After the war he served the R.S.L. organisation

Mr. Turner played grade hockey for the University and for O.H.A. and after the war he represented Tasmania in this sport. He is also a more than useful golfer.

In 1971 he was appointed a Justice of the Peace.

As might be expected, Mr. Turner has taught commerce at Hutchins, and he has coached and umpired hockey with skill and authority. But his major contribution to the growth and development of the school has been through his financial management.

He has of course been responsible for maintenance, grounds, the boarding house, the cleaning, the non-teaching staff, and the oversight of the Board of Management's operations, anyone of which represents an essential task. Nevertheless his skill with figures and his uncanny accuracy have been the vital factors in his distinguished 23 years service. For he retires in July

A well known face around the school for the past five years has been that of Mr. Russell Morton, who, at

NEW STAFF

MR. L.R.G. Prince B.Com., comes to us as Assistant Bursar from Papua New Guinea University of Technology, where he was Associate Bursar. Born in England, he comes to us via New Zealand and Lae. Mr. Prince has a wife and two small daughters.

Mr. Peter Carey joined the staff to teach Economics, Accounting and Commerce. This "Jack-of-all-trades, man from the bush", also has other hidden talents — he knows all about farming, violins and pizzas. A quiet, shy man, he recently organized an interesting debate between the Premier Mr. Lowe, Mr. Pearsall, and Mr. Watling for his Matric Accounting students.

Mrs. Kathryn McQuillan originally from Adelaide, completed a Bachelor of Education at the T.C.A.E. (Mt. Nelson) before taking on the demanding role of Prep. teacher.

Miss Karen Brennan a graduate from the Canberra School of Music, is taking over musical activities in the Junior School. She has had extensive experience as a performer in Australia and overseas and taught at Fahan before joining us in Term III.

Mr. Bob McIntyre a former Victorian who has followed Collingwood Football Club for years, supported the Australian Cricket team in England and the Socceroos in New Zealand. Optimistic by nature. Presently teaching Prep. 4.

Mr. Scott Young joined the school this year after teaching in the Education Department. He is teaching Physical Education and Social Science in the Middle School. A good athlete, Mr. Young is a first grade cricketer with Sandy Bay and his expertise in this field, as well as football and athletics is an asset to the school. An old boy, he trained at the Advanced College where he gained a Bachelor of Education Degree.

Mr. John Stevens joined the Hutchins School at the commencement of 3rd Term 1981 as a part-time English Literature teacher for the VIth form and general teacher of English at the Vth Form level.

After an education in Kenya and at the Universities of Bristol and London, he taught in Rhodesia before filling extensive posts at Secondary schools in Great Britain. He became Principal of a college in Brunei, and under his care were over 3000 students from preparatory to matric level. He came to settle in Tasmania in 1971. Mr. Stevens has since taught at Rose Bay High and The Friends School, and studied at the University of Tasmania for a masters degree in Environmental Studies. This year he began study for a masters degree in Education, specializing in Curriculum.

Mr. Stevens has been a helpful instructor in English, and both staff and students wish him continued and best wishes for the future.

TEMPORARY REPLACEMENTS

Mr. Arthur Schmitt

Due to the long service leave of Mr. Schroeter, the school was lucky to get an able teacher in Mr. Arthur Schmitt.

It was his first attempt at teaching and at first found the job very trying, but at the end of the term he found it hard to break away from the art room. Mr.

Schmitt had come to Tasmania from Brisbane to travel and soon found himself applying for a job as an Art Teacher.

His main objective was to loosen up the students and then let them try free painting. The fifth form class was lucky to be able to use canvas, and their finished paintings were exhibited in the Library. Mr. Schmitt, with a group of boys designed and painted the set for "West Side Story".

For this, and his encouragment through the term we would like to thank him and wish him luck in 10 whatever he does next.

Mr. Richard Firth

With the departure of Mr. C. Wood on his long service leave during the second term, Mr. Richard Firth replaced him as form master and science teacher.

Hailing from Ballarat, Victoria, he completed his tertiary education at a Grammar College in Wales, studying psychology and zoology. It was there that he acquired his expertise in outdoor activities such as mountaineering, skiing, bushwalking and rock climbing. He exhibited his knowledge in this field by coleading bushwalking trips to Southport and Hastings Caves in second term. Being also interested in photography, he is responsible for the photographs of the school musical, "West Side Story".

EVENTS

INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE DISABLED

In this, the year of the disabled, members of the Hutchins School have tried to "Break down the Barriers" in their own way. On activities days some students assisted at the Walkabout Workshop and Therapy Centre — Glenorchy, Talire Special School, Bruce Hamilton Special School and Yalambee Hostel. This form of help is restricted mainly to the upper part of the school, but the junior students did their job too with a wide participation in the M.S. Readathon. Students also gave up their time and helped to sell buttons in the city and at school for the Guide Dogs for the Blind and for the Diabetics Association. As well as this buttons were sold at school for the International Year of the Disabled.

Special commendation must go to the basketball players who organised and participated in a Basketballathon to raise money for Aspect House. Also books, magazines, etc. were collected for Aspect House. In addition, a considerable number of films have been shown to all forms in the school regarding disabled persons and what we can do to help. This year, as with every year, students have assisted in door-knocks for the Retarded Children

Senior Debating Team M. McLaughlin, J. Walch, N. Lintzeris, R. Adams, S. Young

The season began like a fine summer's day, with all the expectations of noon, and ended with a thundery storm, of missed chances, and misfortune. lt was a normal debating season Beginning brightly, on a balmy March evening, and descending coolly, to a final depth on a chilly September's eve, the spectre of loss hung over our valiant knights.

This year, 3 teams, in their respective sections, pitted their minds and tongues against the supremacy of the Rose Bay teams (junior and intermediate), the lashing snarls of the cat-like Collegiate girls, and the flak of the flashing Fahan girls (oops!), last years champions, in order to regain male prestige, lost pride, and win the trophy which had so far eluded us.

We failed in all our 12 noble objectives . . .

March came all too soon this year, and in the of Collegiate, to do battle with their noble tongues . dim darkness of murky Sandy Bay, three nervous and generally malnourished (2 boarders) Hutchins boys, climbed enthusiastically into 'Terry' Torana. to make the fearsome venture into the unknown depths of Rosebay.

The gauntlet had been thrown, the challenge issued, and the gallant senior team ventured into the frav of the battle, innocent to the last, as to where it would lead them.

The opening round against Dominic was disappointing. Narrowly defeated, we left the room, inspired to do better next time.

The battle had been lost, but the war was far from over

Wednesday evening was upon us yet again, and the brave trio of Michael McLaughlin, the vanguished. Sherman Young and James Walch, by now debate, we finished a regular members of our strong fifth on the ladder, army, made the journey to just missing out on the the not so friendly shores finals.

Despite a valiant effort by James, who had been inflicted with a bad case of 'bent elbow', we lost narrowly. Our dreams were shattered.

The rest of the season was disappointing. We went down to Sacred Heart, overcame St. Virgils, and found ourselves having to win the final debate against Mt. Carmel.

So it was on home around that we took them on. Word after word, speech after speech, the combatants fought to the death. Despite massive home team support, truly excellent speeches, and great argument, we were

Meanwhile, down south, the Hutchins Intermediate team was doing just fine, and finished the season in the top four. Due to conflicts with West Side Story, their semi-final was delayed for a week, and proved to be a tense conflict, with neither side giving an inch.

Unfortunately for our team, their adversaries, Rose Bay, proved to be the stronger team, on the day, and the Hutchins team was beaten, but by no means disgraced.

The junior team also fought valiantly all season, but failed to make the finals.

So on that chilly September's eve, a few hundred people flocked to the Hutchins auditorium to witness the climax of the season - the grand finals.

Unfortunately, we did not have the pleasure of winning a final on home territory, as not one of our teams had made it to the final conflict.

Congratulations must go to Rose Bay on winning the junior section. Sacred Heart on taking out the Intermediate, Collegiate on winning the senior, and Doom for destroying a jug and three glasses.

In the fifth form, Bucks defeated Thorold and the ladder after the fifth form rounds stood at Thorold – 1st (by 1 pt) from Bucks School and Steves.

Thus the results of the house debating tournament depended on the fourth formers. Despite the fact that Thorold did not win the fourth form rounds, they finished ahead of Bucks, and thus took out House Debating for the first time run by the Royal in the last couple of years. FINAL RESULTS:

David Tenant of the fifth form was the school's outstanding public speaker for 1981. He did extremely well in the Jaycee's Youth Speaks for Australia competition, reaching the Southern Finals, only to be narrowly defeated.

The middle school impromptu speaking competition was once again adjudicated by members of the sixth form. In a close competition, Stephens was the winner, Bucks second, School a very close third and Thorold last.

The Junior Orator for 1981 was Richard Scrivener.

The school once again participated in the Commonwealth debates Commonwealth Society. Given the affirmative side of the topic "That the Commonwealth of Nations is going to the Dogs", our senior team managed to both enrage and entertain the pro-Commonwealth audience with revelations that the Commonwealth was rotting at the core.

Despite the fact we lost the debate, we were presented with a 10 dollar book voucher, which was used to purchase a book for the school library. Congratulations to Collegiate on winning the Commonwealth Shield (again).

The season has now drawn to a close. Although there was a definite lack of overall success, all debaters gained much enjoyment, and experience and with the strong intermediate team of this year becoming next year's seniors, Hutchins should enjoy a successful season in 1982.

Thanks must go to Mr. McQueen, Mr. Paton and Mr. Curnow for their time and effort.

WEST SIDE STORY an Emotional and Entertaining Experience

by Adrian Barber

As the curtain fell on that final night and spontaneously cast and crew embraced and cheered we knew that months of work and perseverance had culminated in a show we would remember for the rest of our lives.

The seed had probably been sown for another production this year after the great success Mt. Carmel and Hutchins had enjoyed in 1980 with "Carousel". "West Side Story", however, offered a considerable challenge both in the extreme difficulty of the musical numbers and with the sheer organisation required to set such a large musical. A total of eight act changes in the first half, all smoothly coordinated, miraculously real stage-fights and over fifty people doing the Mamba and Cha Cha on our new stage simultaneously, give some idea of the great challenge that was mastered by our excellent director-Sonia Johnson. Auditions for the show went ahead in March. Many great singing and acting parts were available, especially a lot of boys parts. The reaction was quite approached, the orchestra outstanding as well over took their positions to add 100 students turned up that depth and life that is and the Director had a hard task in narrowing field. This down the the double resulted in casting of several majo roles. It was perhaps those early days with scripts in and the our hands knowledge that for 31/2 ould be months we rehearsing Saturday and most of Sunday every members of the cast were week (including the accomodated on the chat hardest part. But those 'faithfuls' who stuck out the first few weeks of routine learning were to reap the benefits as the show began to crystallize.

Rehearsals were, on the whole, an occasion to look forward to. New acquaintances (or relationships) developed and as the songs and movement came together on the stage, those not required at the time improved the Hutchins -Mt. Carmel relations.

The music, and in fact ntire theme of "West Side Story'' is very topical. The concept of racial tensions and love's als. As dancers whirled 50's in New York, or indeed as seen through the eves of Shakespeare in the similar story-line of "Romeo and Juliet". It was a story the cast could relate to and the ugly lyrics tinged with love and romance captured interest of all involved.

The hard work and long hours soon began to pay off as the cast unfortunately the become entertainers. became more confident in impromptu substitution of their roles. The dance routines were learned with help from "Shirley", and as opening night vital for such a show. Full credit must be given to the combined schools Orchestra (Mt. Carmel and Hutchins), who tackled extremely difficult pieces with professionalism and enthusiasm.

To advertise and promote our production, radio and television inter-views were planned and 14 holidays), that was the show 'Midweek', Take 6, and on 7HT. Backstage crew made last minute stage alterations as an anxious cast prepared for opening night.

Despite competition from dedicated Royalists who mistakenly thought The Royal Wedding more interesting, those wise enough to fill our new Auditorium were in for a night of pure entertainment.

MUSIC

Director: R. Barber, Esq.

The big musical event of the year was the joint production with Mr. Carmel of "West Side Story". Rehearsals began in first term with the cast and orchestra keeping apart. The two sections of the production did not come together until about three weeks before opening night, but when they did, all those involved began to feel it would be a great success. Opening night was July 29th and we feared a small audience because of the other show, but we showed that we could pull the crowds too. Each night (for the orchestra) seemed to get better and better (although we lost our lead clarinetist with chicken pox) and on the last night we hit more right notes than wrong ones. Instrumentalists and singers worked very hard for a long time, but all agreed that the success of the show justified all the hard work.

Other performances by the orchestra during the year were at Speech Night where, along with the Junior School Choir, we performed a world premier called 'Celebration Suite', composed by the Headmaster. We also performed at the opening of the New Middle school and at the moment are preparing for an end of year concert to be held on November 2nd (although we lost our French Horn player when he was rushed to hospital with appendicitis).

Miss Karen Brennan has recently been appointed Assistant Director of Music, with special responsibilities in the Junior School. Already a Junior School orchestra has been formed and it has given a successful performance at an assembly. We look forward to a marked increase in the musical life of the Junior School next year.

1981 IN THE LIBRARY

1981 has been a very busy year in the Library. Without the extremely helpful 'mums' and 'grandmum' we would have been struggling to survive. The work load and clerical jobs are much greater than many realise, despite the enormous help in receiving many catalogue cards from the TASCIS computer. Monitors have helped in the daily chores carding books, shelving, manning the photo copier and so on. Excellent service has been rendered by several monitors in particular — Alex Headlam, Andrew MacDonald, Jonathon Harrex, Judith Tye, Steven Roberts, Jonathon Potter and last but by no means least, Stirling Hookway, who spends his lunch hour every day helping out.

Through the year several displays, including one for Coral Sea Week, have been held. Over 1,000 new books have been added to the Collection through the year and new magazines have proved so popular they tend to disappear. During book week a display of entries was held. Class use of the library has been heavy, but fortunately we have rarely had to refuse a class because of lack of room. Spare seats have been an exception rather than the rule.

A. McDonald, S. Roberts, A. Headlam, Judith Tye, J. Harrex.

Overdue books are an increasing problem and sufficient time to chase them regularly just has not been available. "Oh, for a computerized borrowing system."

During the year a trolley for the middle school was arranged to permanently hold a set of encyclopedias, a dictionary, atlas and basic reference material, along with a class set of fiction to be changed from time to time.

The Fifth Form Art Exhibition has brightened up the library walls during Term III and along with a beautiful set of tourist posters makes the environment more attractive.

HOUSE DRAMA

House Drama enjoyed the luxury of rehearsing and performing in the fine facilities provided by the new Drama Centre. The competition was, I think, characterized by an extremely friendly and co-operative rivalry between the houses. The other outstanding feature of the competition was that so many students made their debut as actors or producers.

The competition was won by Thorold, who produced 'The New Model Army', a satirical send-up of British History. Full marks must go to Sandy Headlam the producer, and the rest of Thorold's thespians.

In the light of the history of the competition it was an extraordinary win — it was Thorold House, who had never won before: a comedy had also never won before and a play with a large cast rarely wins. Thorold did well to overcome all these odds and thoroughly deserved their win.

Buckland came second this year with 'The Deterrent' another comedy, produced by Glen Braithwaite. Unfortunately for the house they failed to recognize and exploit the subtilities of black comedy that the play contained. This however, did not detract from an amusing production and some good performances coming from Hartley, Bloomfield and Braithwaite.

Stephens House came third this year with 'Answers' a violent play about a police interrogation. The choice of play was slammed by the adjudicators as they felt the actors were too inexperienced to carry a play of this sort. It was a fair criticism especially as the producer was also acting. It was a brave attempt and Dow-Sainter, Scrivener and Atkins should be commended on their performances.

School House for so long a strong and innovative force in House drama came a disappointing equal last with Steves. The old recipe of a right piece, basically dramatic with touches of comic, and played by a few actors failed . James Walsh and Doom McLaughlin produced none of their usually detailed performances, but Phil Lester and Greg Webb gave encouraging debuts. School definitely bit off more than they could chew.

As a student who has been involved in this competition for some years now I would like to thank Mr. McQueen, the organizer of the competition. In no other house competition is satisfaction greater than in House Drama — so get involved.

James James

Morrison Morrison Weatherby George Dupree Took great care of his Mother Though he was only three. I wonder if you know who wrote that poem? Or this:

The King asked The Queen, and

- The Queen asked
- The Dairymaid:
- 'Could we have some butter for

The Royal slice of bread?'

And if you haven't guessed this will be a giveaway:

They're changing guard at Buckingham Palace - Christopher Robin went down with Alice.

Yes, of course A.A., Milne, that famous children's poet who died in 1956. I wonder if you were one of the lucky ones like me, to have been brought up on Winnie-the-Pooh and Now we are six.

In fact my first terror-struck stage appearance was my back view to a long-suffering gathering of parents at a Sunday School concert. All I had to do was kneel in pyjamas and red dressing gown beside a bed on stage while someone read A.A. Milne's Vespers. I guess that scene has stayed in my mind ever since:

Little boys kneels at the foot of the bed, Droops on the little hands, little gold head; Hush! Hush! Whisper who dares!

Christopher Robin is saying his prayers.

Jesus told us that each of us should retire regularly into the privacy of our own chamber whether it be the bedroom, or out, alone walking, or even travelling in a crowded bus - but to withdraw to the secret chambers of our hearts, and there commune with our God and Father who already knows (tremendous thought) the secret sins and hopes that we can share with no-one else - unto whom all hearts are open, all secrets are know.

One of the great modern thinkers of our Church, John Macquarrie, has recently asked the question whether prayer is a childish exercise which an adult must put from him. His answer is a resounding 'No'; what makes a modern scientific adult, Macquarrie argues, is his power of thought. And so, he describes prayer as thinking.

Now we all think - about the weather, dinner, T.V. tonight, work tomorrow etc., we know what that activity is like. So prayer is a special kind of thinking.

First, praver is passionate thinking - not just thinking about things around us and how they are, but rather thinking about how things ought to be! Whether in our own lives, or our relationships, or within society. Not what is, but what ought to be, and how I can help to make it so.

Second, prayer is compassionate thinking. That is, we try to put

CHAPEL NOTES

Forty one boys were confirmed this year in a very impressive ceremony. Bishop Jerrim spoke on the importance of commitment. Attendances at the voluntary Communions has improved markedly, and the Boarders and some parents share in the Sacrament every Sunday evening.

To mark the Confirmation Mrs. Vincent made a most striking banner for the Chapel representing the Dove and Shield - symbols of the Holy Spirit and Faith.

The new organ is proceeding apace, and has already made a great difference to the appearance of the Chapel. It is to be hoped that it will encourage the musical life of the School community.

Alexander Headlam has been a faithful server, and I hope that next year more will offer themselves for this service.

With the passing of the years the Chapel is becoming more and more a hallowed place – it is the architectural and spiritual 18 centre of our life together.

ourselves in the place of the other whether a friend, an enemy, or an outcast. How does it feel to be that other, and how can I make that person's life happier and better.

Third, prayer is responsible thinking. Instead of just letting things happen in a higgledy-piggledy way, we look ahead and prepare ourselves for what the future might bring. We can do this by examining our past and evaluating how we reacted then. Did I make a mistake? Why did that work out well?

Fourth, prayer is thankful thinking. Not forgetting the bad and wrong things, but rather asking for help to repair that damage, in prayer we relish and enjoy the good things that have happened and will happen both now and in the future.

Finally, another verse from A.A. Milne:

"There was once an old sailor my grandfather knew,

Who had so many things he wanted to do That whenever he thought it was time to begin,

He couldn't, because of the state he was in."

Just thinking about something - even if it is that special sort of thinking that we call praver - is not enough. Prayer leads to action.

The S.R.C. as I write is within days of realizing its six year aim. That aim being to acquire the now famous S.R.C. 'pipe dream' - an electronic basketball clock and scorer for the gymnasium. This year's council rejected the previous proposal to buy a clock and decided to invite somebody to build us one. An Upper Sixth Former, Scott Calvert, was approached and agreed to take on this project. Scott has spent many months of tedious work on the clock and although progress is slow it is hoped this clock, which has a retail value of approximately $1200, will have been presented to the school by late October. The S.R.C. would like to sincerely thank Scott Calvert for all his work and also Mr. Wilson, who built the frame.

The S.R.C. has continued its regular activities throughout the year. There have been three plainclothes days. The proceeds have all gone to different charities: namely Bishop Hand in New Guinea; Aspect House, a Tasmanian shelter for the handicapped; and the March for 20 Millions. The Council also gained some revenue from the Peel St. Car Park, but takings have been down due to the muddy and thus hazardous condition of the car park.

The S.R.C. like the previous years council held a 'Brighten up the Classroom' competition which prompted some 'interesting' responses from class rooms in both sections, that is the Middle and Senior schools. Cinema passes have been issued to the winning classroom in each section. The S.R.C. have also prompted the school to build new bag racks around the classrooms. The Council also financially sponsored the Book Week Competition which the Library Committee ran. The great fund raising for the year was two discos held in the Boarding House. They raised $968 for the S.R.C. Thanks must go to Dr. Stephens and all the boarders who pleasantly suffered the inconvenience of having a disco in their dining room. For greater information of the S.R.C.'s activities, the Treasurer's report is open to public inspection.

This year has been a busy one for the S.R.C. I think more may be achieved if the rank and file members of the S.R.C. can lend their support to the executive. This would lead to a more experienced Council in the future. The S.R.C. should also have a long term aim. The seeds for future Councils have already been planted in that a bicycle shelter, steps to the M.O. and adequate seating around both ovals are being planned

I hope that future S.R.C.'s would pursue these matters if they are within the Council's resources.

Thanks must go to Mr. Zagel for his time and effort throughout the year. Thank you also to my fellow executives, Michael Boardman, the Council scribe. Philip Headlam, who chaired various sub-committees, and finally John Furness who so successfully fixed the books (only joking . . . I think). On behalf of the executive I would like to thank the council for their support and wish next years members all the best. M. McLaughlin either of present or former pupils – continually come to the fore although in the area of foreign language competitions I think the Junior School could have a greater involvement. Besides continuing to help children with learning problems, this year we have taken steps to initiate a programme aimed at extending the child at the other end of the intelligence scale. Discussion groups and mathematical awareness activities are just two areas in which we have worked - we have found many children reluctant to put forward views and we would suggest more discussion in the home especially on current affairs topics. Through the continued efforts of Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Goodram children are realising that there is great enjoyment and pleasure to be gained from reading: we

JUNIOR SCHOOL NOTES

Twenty-five years ago there were two buildings on the present school site - the present Junior School and the original part of the Middle School which in those days was the Kindergarten. Today in 1981 with the everchanging skyline of the School, Junior School is almost unnoticed, but if we stop to reflect we realise that geographically the Junior School building is the hub of the complex and everything radiates out from it.

And so it is with school life. Junior School is the start point - the foundation on which all aspects of school life are built. The Junior School Staff, from afternoon kindergarten to grade six, have ensured that that foundation has been well and truly built on rock whether it concerns academic, social or physical aspects of the school life.

As the various academic results appear from scholarships and competitions Junior School names - have started a momentum towards reading and would ask parents to keep up the interest.

In the fields of music and art we have seen much activity around the School. We have two choirs and this year the junior choir will be performing at the Eastern Shore Eisteddfod: also with the appointment of Miss Brennan as the Assistant Director the many children who are learning individual instruments are being moulded into an orchestra. Junior School Entertains saw 260 children on stage at some time in the afternoon and plans are well under way for the Cathedral Carol Service in December and a musical production in 1982. With Mr. Boutler spending a day in the school specialising in art from Grade 4 upwards many hidden talents are beginning to emerge and develop, whilst the displays that have been appearing in the entrance foyer have created much interest. A group of senior boys have been working with Mrs. Minchin and the Audio-Visual equipment on Friday afternoons with good results and it is planned to extend this in 1982.

1981 has seen several changes in our physical exercise programme following Mr. Fraser's visit to Melbourne schools in 1980. Firstly every child has a daily session of P.E. for 20 minutes. They are graded in ability and the groups process through a gamut of activities with varying degrees of difficulty and skills. In winter sport the children opt for a sport at which they receive special coaching and play in a competition on Saturday mornings. On the other sports period the children play a House Competition involving all the other sports: e.g. a boy chooses hockey as his school sport but plays hockey, football, soccer and volleyball in House activities. A similar arrangement is being developed for summer sports. The swimming pool has been fully utilised and in Term 3 we have added life saving to our programme.

Inter-school sport saw success in swimming (for the sixth successive year), under 10 football, under 10 soccer, under 10 hockey, open hockey, cross country running and cricket. As the time limit for these notes expires we are looking with. confidence to the athletics. We feel the concentrating of under 9 teams in internal competition rather than in school competition was a good decision. All of this success would not have been possible without the dedication of staff and the willing help of so many parents.

All the other aspects of school life: Camp, Cubs, Yarra Valley visit, excursions, unnamed clothing, car parking, pedestrian crossing; have had their moments. We are most grateful to all those people who have given us help whether it be library, reading, sport, tuckshop, billets, transport, excursions, etc. . .

It has been said that "life begins at 40". We would say that "life begins in the Junior School. J. Anderson

SPORTSMASTER'S REPORT

This has been an outstanding year for Hutchins on the Sport field. It will become apparent when reading the reports from individual sports that all have achieved a measure of success. Team highlights this year have been the Rowing and Cricket successes in first term and the Athletics and Cross Country in third term.

The most encouraging aspect to emerge from competition this year has been the leadership given by members of the Sixth Form. This was perhaps most apparent in the Cross Country season where Jeffrey Triffitt set an example as Captain which will be difficult for future Captains to emulate. His encouragement of the younger age groups and the enthusiasm he engendered led to a resounding win. Though the Open age group was not outstanding as individuals, their combined efforts, where they filled the places from 5to to 14th (except 11th) ensured victory for themselves and the whole team. The result was achieved by dedication and a lot of hard work.

There have been many good individual and team performances during the year but perhaps the most outstanding were those of Anthony Baker in the Southern and Island Athletics meetings. In thirteen events Anthony was beaten only once, when he came second to Andrew Walker of Hutchins in the U16 Hurdles. Anthony's best effort came in the High Jump during the Southern Meeting when he became the first Tasmanian Junior to clear over two metres. He is now within thirteen inches of the World High Jump record, a magnificent achievement from a boy of sixteen. Whilst improvement from now on will be very difficult to achieve, with dedication and good coaching, Anthony has the potential to become one of the best High Jumpers in Australia.

Anthony was not the only successful performer in the Island Athletics Meeting. Angus Barnes, Adam Clay, Richard Baker and the U12 Relay team also broke or equalled records. The success of the team again underlined the leadership from the Sixth Form. The result was gained through a great team effort and the resulting nine Cap Awards is testimony to the effort put in by the senior boys.

Coaches, parents and competitors in all sports this year have good reason to be proud of their efforts. I would particularly like to thank the following coaches for giving their time and effort during 1981.

The arrival this year of Mr. S. Young to the Middle School has been of great benefit. An excellent sportsman, Mr. Young's main areas of interest are Cricket, Australian Rules and Athletics. His expertise in these areas has already shown in school results. He is teaching Physical Education in the Middle School which is of great value to the boys.

1ST XI CRICKET

Standing: Judith Tye (Scorer), M. Triffitt, C. Green, T. Stokes, M. Kingston, H. Fiddy, T. Omond, S. Parsons, D. Brammall Esq., A. Whitton.

Seated: M. Bowerman, M. Shearman, J. Furness, J. Triffitt, R. Hunter, B. Knevett, C. Young.

After a successful tour at the Peninsula School over the Christmas Break, Hutchins 1st XI entered the Southern Tasmanian Independent Schoolboys Cricket competition hopeful of once again doing well.

The first game against S.V.C. proved to be a real test for the side as Saints proved to be the toughest of our opponents for the season — not that any team was easy! We asserted our authority from the outset and dismissed them for 143, with good bowling performances coming from Michael Kingston, 5 - 43 and Clarke Young 3 - 47. Our batsmen then fairly comfortably gained the runs required for victory with four wickets to spare. Robert Hunter made 48 and John Furness 30.

The next game against Friends was highlighted by two superb individual performances. In our innings of 4 - 268, John Furness made a magnificent 128 not out. He was well supported by Jeff. Triffitt who made a well compiled 48. Friends were dismissed for 75, with Clarke Young bowling brilliantly to capture 7 - 12, giving us a handsome victory.

In the third game, against Dominic, we were sent in to bat on a rather tricky wicket and dismissed for a paltry 116. Clarke Young provided the only real resistance with a stout hearted 26 not out. This placed our bowlers under a lot of pressure. In a very tight finish, highlighted by some fine fielding we managed to dismiss Dominic for 106. Michael Kingston with 4 - 26 and Clarke Young 4 - 24 were again our best bowlers.

Our second game against S.V.C. was played on a very wet track so low scores were the order of the day. Saints were sent in by us to bat first and were dismissed for 80. Alas we performed even more miserably and were bundled out for 72. Robert Hunter was the only batsman to show out with a fine 19. However, it must be said that Keeper Chris Green and number eleven bat Michael Kingston did well to score the runs they did — at one stage victory even seemed possible — but we were not equal to the occasion and Saints beat us by 8 runs on the first innings.

This low placed the team under considerable pressure as there were now very few points separating Dominic, S.V.C. and ourselves.

In our match against Friends we were without Clarke Young, however we managed to dismiss them for 141 with Michael Kingston taking 4 - 20 and John Furness 2 - 8. Victory was ensured for us with some very solid batting from John Furness, once again, who scored 61 and very welcome return to form by Mark Shearman with 71. We won the game by 8 wickets.

Victory against Dominic in the final match assured us of our place in the State final. We were dismissed for 188 (Shearman 64, Hunter 30, and J. Triffitt 29). Dominic managed 9 - 123 from their 65 overs. For Hutchins Brent Knevett captured 3 - 20.

For the State Final against Launceston Grammar, the wicket on the W.M.O. was in magnificent condition – a credit to Clyde our groundsman. Grammar won the toss and asked us to bat. We started poorly but recovered to make 275. J. Triffitt with 59, B. Knevett 56 not out, Mark Triffitt 30, J. Furness 28 and R. Hunter 28 were the best of our batsmen.

It was a real team performance with most batsmen making a contribution. In reply, at stumps on the first day, Grammar were 2/10 - a splendid start – for our team. From this point on we remained on top and dismissed Grammar for 184. Clarke Young bowled outstandingly to take 4 - 28. He was well supported by Michael Kingston who captured 3 - 19. We batted on to play out time and in an innings of 3 - 116, Scott Parsons made an encouraging 52 not out. Needless to say the team was delighted to capture its second successive State Premiership and its fourth in the past nine years, having been Southern Premiers seven times in this period.

The team would like to thank the parents for all their work and support during the season; Clyde Bewglass, our groundsman, for providing us with such good practice and match wickets and finally once again, Mr. Brammall for his time and efforts as coach of the Eleven. We wish the 1982 side all the best of good luck for a successful and enjoyable season.

	enjoy	able season.																J. I.

CRICKET - 2ND XI

Captain: I. Colhoun The Second XI had a good season losing only one match and ending with a convincing outright win over Friends by an innings and one run. Vice captain was Mark Buckingham whose consistent batting earned him an average of 30. Other performances worthy of note, with the bat, were Paul Edwards (three scores above twenty) and Angus Barnes (38,41 from two innings only).

James Omond performed well with the ball topping both the averages and aggregate. Other exceptional performances were Mark Buckingham (3/6) and Ivan Colhoun (5/8). David Tennant's fielding was flawless throughout the season.

The team was well captained by Ivan Colhoun.

We won the premiership again with two outright wins, two first innings wins and one loss.

CRICKET – 3RD XI

The 3rd XI didn't have quite as good a season as was hoped for. The team trained hard throughout the season but with little success on Saturdays. The team compiled 170 for our highest score with D. Bullock scoring a hard hitting 104 no. and T. Munro 33. Our lowest score was 17 with quite a few ducks and golden ducks.

Next year the team will need to practice a lot against swing bowling. Our sincere thanks go to Mr. Morton for his efforts and giving up valuable Saturday morning time and also to P. Banks who led us through with high spirits.

ROWING

Captain of Boats: W. Seddon Master-In-Charge: Dr. G. Stephens

The 1981 rowing season proved to be the most successful the club has ever seen. The club took the success of last years performances to build upton to win the Head of the River by a record four lengths from St. Pats and to show great strength in the underage crews.

I would like to thank Dr. Stephens for his efforts as Master-In-Charge and his supporters of rowing committee for financing the club. I feel that the club is heavily in debted to this committee which has brought about a new era in rowing at Hutchins and one only has to look at the excellent results which have coincided with its formation to realise the splendid work it has done. The committee this year purchased a fleet of four sculls in order to teach boys the finer skills of rowing. The sculls were financed by sale of sheep manure shovelled and bagged by activities day rowers and supporters of rowing and by holding film nights, dances and stalls at regattas.

The 1st VIII, coached by Chris Poulson, commenced training during third term of 1980. Mr. Poulson, the coach of last years successful U16 VIII, took the offer of coach after Tony Salisbury's retirement. Throughout the long season the VIII competed in many races and regattas with the idea of gaining racing experience for the Head of the River and possibly the Australian School Boy VIII Championship. In these regattas the VIII collected two Tasmanian Championships, the Novice VIII and four Oared Championships. The eight stroked by A. Holyman, seated from the bow: J. Henry, S. Nettlefold, A. King, M. Elder, C. Gray, M. Bryan, W. Seddon, A. Holyman and D. Wyatt (cox), went on to win the Southern Head of the River and also to beat the Tasmanian Youth VIII (who had asked to row by invitation for some competition). On the big day, the VIII won in an excellent time of 4 minutes 2 seconds over the 1500m course and plans to go to Brisbane for the Australian School Boy Eight Oared Championships went ahead.

Up in Brisbane, Hutchins won their heat and went straight in to the final to compete against Newington (the other heat winner) and Kings (who won the repercharge). In excellent conditions on the Hinze Dam, Hutchins took the lead but with 750m to go the stronger Newington and Kings crew took over to come in 1st and 2nd respectively. Newington were the first school crew ever to break 6 minutes over a 2000m course and must be congratulated on their performances. Hutchins came in 3rd place, one length behind, in the time of 6 minutes 1 second.

Congratulations must go to all winning crews and place getters in the Head of the River Regatta and to their coaches for their time and dedication. The coaches were: C. Poulson, J. Douglas, J. Verney, W. Flawes, N. Childes, A. Gibson, C. Wood, John Grant, G. Hutcheon, J. Wertheimer, J. Freeman, D. Menzie, B. Beattie, M. Skinner, J. Mason, Jim Grant, N. Harper and H. Hale.

U16 VIII – a very polished and determined crew of oarsmen coached by J. Verney and Open VIIIs Hutchins 1st, St. Patricks College 2nd and Scotch-Oakburn 3rd.

Finally, I would like to wish next years club, especially the 1st VIII the best of luck – rise to the challenge and make it a hat-trick.

A mention must be made of the fact that Bill Seddon has now rowed in the 1st VIII for 4 years — a school

At the conclusion of the season the team had won eight of ten roster games. The side had the measure of all but S.V.C. Preparation for the first roster game involved three practice matches, including one against University III. The opening encounter was at home to Saints who ultimately proved too powerful. Wins followed against the other Southern Schools. Round two again saw the implementation of a Satewide roster. Despite much travelling the side was successful in all four games. Then it was to Austin's Ferry for the deciding match against St. Virgils, who were to prove too strong in a very hard fought game. Hutchins won the final two roster games and thereby finished second over-all.

Twenty-eight players represented the side over the season. Of the first year players Gary Williams, Mark Triffitt, Scott Parsons and Marcus Elder impressed with their skill and determination. Among the experienced brigade lain Burbury, Jim Ried, Chris Gray, Anthony Baker and Andrew Holyman gave consistent service.

Once again the team held a wind-up function in the Boarding House, providing an opportunity to acknowledge performances within the team and to thank parents for their involvement.

Trophy Winners:

Best/Fairest - Iain Burbury Runner Up - Anthony Baker Old Boys – Chris Gray Most Determined – Jim Ried Most Improved – Gary Williams Best First Year – Mark Triffitt Service Award - William Seddon

The team would like to thank all the parents for their wonderful support - to John Furness for his quiet efficiency as Team Manager, once again, to lan Fraser and Clive Simpson, and finally to both Mr. Brammall and Dr. Clarke for their encouragement and support. C.R.

To those leaving we wish them every success.

SECOND XVIII

The second XVIII this season have achieved probably the most successful results for several years under the coaching of Mr. Walsh. For the first time in at least 5 years we managed to overcome the apparent might of the St. Virgil's second XVIII. Throughout the season we recorded only one loss, to St. Virgils in our first match. However, as the season progressed under Captain Andrew Burrows and Vice-Captain Tim Gray, our "mateship" and dedication developed a team of considerable depth.

Consistent triers throughout the season were Andrew Burrows, Peter Bobrowski, Rob Campbell, Scott Hansen, Mark Tibballs, Ben Wagner, Andrew Walker, David Tennant, Andrew Jones, Rod Banks, Richard Page and Andrew Atkins.

With the standard at Hutchins being exceptionally high we hope for an improvement in the standard of other schools to increase the enjoyment of the game for all. A.A. U15 FOOTBALL

U13 FOOTBALL

The U13 side captained by Peter Anderson had a successful season, winning 9 roster games out of 12. This enabled the side to finish 4th on the ladder at the end of the roster games.

We won the 1st semi against New Town but were beaten by 6 points in the preliminary final. Thus we ended the season in 3rd position (with 12 sides in the competition). This is the first time a Hutchins under age side has made the A division finals - an excellent team effort.

Congratulations go to Peter Anderson and Troy Bennett for being selected in the Southern U13 squad.

Coach: S. Young Esq. Captain: J. Morrisby

The Under 15 football team completed the season well, losing only one game during the roster matches and coming from behind (26 points at half time) to take the flag by 4 goals. The season was dominated by eight players. John Morrisby (Captain), Anthony Hand (V.C.), Keith Churchill, Murray Brewer, Robert McDougall, Roger King, Andrew Bentley and Sam Garrett, all gave team lifting performances throughout the year. Special mention must be made of John Morrisby and Anthony Hand who almost single handedly kept the team in the finals and eventually the premiership.

S. Young

Coach: N. Rumble Captain: D. Archer

The U14 team enjoyed another very successful season. After months of slogging it out in the near dark during a particularly wet winter, it was a just reward to again secure the B-Grade premiership.

Thanks must go to the whole team for their attitude and effort; particularly David Archer who was an excellent Captain on and off the field.

Other players who deserve special mention for their efforts are David Elias, who played well in many positions; Nick Freeman who had become a very reliable centre-half-back by finals time; Scott Pelham for kicking the most goals and Shaun Richardson for making the U14 Southern Tasmanian Side. Thanks to all other players, whose names have not been mentioned because winning premierships requires a team effort and without their presence and help this could not have been achieved.

Captain: S. Foster Master-In-Charge: D. Hoskins Esq.

The year saw extensive use of the school pool. After being open during the summer holidays to the members of the Hutchins Swimming Club it was utilized to the fullest by the swimming team from a week before the beginning of term I until the Tasmanian Independent Schools Swimming Meeting.

For the second year running the House Swimming was held at the school pool and I would say that it was a great success with enthusiastic support from both pupils and parents. This year saw the downfall of the Buckland reign to School House when they won by 29 points. The final results were: 1st School – 2nd Buckland – 3rd Stephens – 4th Thorold.

After the House Swimming, the training continued. All involved knew that it was going to be a hard battle between Hutchins and St. Virgils. This was proved to be true on the night of March 5th at the Clarence Olympic Pool. There was a great turn-up of supporters and it was appreciated by the whole team.

Although Hutchins snatched the lead for a while and surprised 40 all with some tremendous swims, St. Virgils proved the stronger in the end.

After being beaten at the Southern Tasmanian Independent Schools Swimming Meeting a more determined team trained on with high hopes of a win at the Tasmanian Independent Schools Swimming Meeting. On Friday 13th March the swimming team along with a few dedicated Upper Sixth supporters travelled to the Windmill Hill Pool, Launceston.

This time it was a different story with St. Virgils staying narrowly in the lead throughout the morning. Hutchins and St. Patricks College had a tussle for second, which also lasted the duration of the carnival. Final scores were:

SAILING

1981 was generally a quiet year for the Hutchins School Sailing Club under the patronage of Mr. T.J. Bennison O.A.M. Because of a rowing regatta held on the same weekend as the annual Inter-school Sailing Regatta, we couldn't gather together sufficient sailors of the expected standard to make the long hike north to Beauty Point. Hutchins would have had one of the strongest teams in many years and with a little luck could have regained the shield that we had for five years running in the 1960s. Consequently, the only school related event was the House Sailing held on an Activities Day in March from the Sandy Bay Sailing Club with a record 49 entries.

About forty sailors braved the icy Derwent River represented by over one dozen classes in a competition well won by a consistent Stevens House from School and Buckland with an unlucky Thorold last. The wind came from all directions, chiefly from the south west with squalls moving through at over thirty knots. This caused many retirements because of both gear damage and the hard conditions. The races were set into four divisions with high performance, low performance monohulls and catamarans starting from the mid-river, whilst the windsurfers raced from S.B.S.C.

The morning race saw "Shemozzle", sailed by Mark Chesterman, James Ried and Bruce Calvert, excel in the moderate to fresh conditions with incredible upwind only to capsize on one of the downwind leas because of poor crewwork. Lester Gabriel in his Laser, "Beem", took the lead and held the Sharpie out to record an outright win. Craig Clifford in his Sabot, "Keep Calm", showed excellent boat handling to come second on handicap, whilst brothers Shaun Anderson in "Aquila" and Philip in "Tornado", both in International Cadets came 3rd and 4th (on handicap) respectively. The afternoon race was even more blustery, "Shemozzle" cleared away from the fleet again with "Beem" on his tail but sailed an excellent tactical race to record an outright win, they took no risks such as using a spinnaker which ruined their hopes in the first race. "Beem" came second across and on handicap, the Anderson brothers came 4th and 6th, reversing the previous race results. "Keep Calm" was 5th on handicap. The catamarans sailed a different course with Peter and Ivan Colhoun convincingly defeating the small fleet. Only three windsurfers took to the water with Dominic Bury from Thorold too fast and experienced. The top boats of the series were "Beem" from Bucks, and "Keep Calm" and "Tornado" from Steves.

All the participants would like to thank the sailing staff headed by Mr. Mal Wyatt, Mr. Bennison, the ladies in the canteen, those who watched and supported and Mr. Boyes whose efforts throughout the year make this and other regattas possible.

Outside school, our sailors have been quite successful. Gary Williams came 2nd in the Stonehaven Cup for 12 ft. Cadet Dinghies. John McCullum won the Sabot state titles and came fifth in the Australian Championships, Richard Fader was 1st Junior in the state titles. Philip Anderson won the International Cadet Tasmanian Championships from younger brother Shaun. Incidentally, an Old Boy, Julian Freeman won the national championships in this class. Mark Chesterman helmed "Shemozzle" to a convincing and consistent win of the Tasmanian Lightweight Sharpie championships, he won Junior, Country and State titles yet didn't win a heat, perhaps we can all learn from his consistency.

OPEN RUGBY Dr. K. Bailey, F. Tamayo, D. Standish, S. Foster, R. Hand, R. McMahon, D. Bury, M. Boardman, J. Walch, R. Hunter, S. Nettlefold, T. Omond, M. McLaughlin, S. Calvert, G. Tyler, T. Saltmarsh

This year saw Hutchins strongly represented in all underage competitions with two teams reaching their respective grand finals.

The 1st XV started the season with high hopes of doing well and these expectations were increased after we had won all our first five games. In our first game we defeated H.M.C. 44-0, in the second Taroona 46-4, and then the highlight of our season, a thrilling 12-11 win over the eventual winners, Glenorchy.

This game was a very close affair and we won beucause our goal kicker, Dan Tucker, made sure of his chances while the Glenorchy kicker missed. Both teams scored two tries.

In our next game we beat Easts 48-0, then Taroona 44-4. Our game against H.M.C. was postponed due to bad weather. It was at this stage in the season that we began to falter. After some bad weather, the school holidays and a few mix-ups, we didn't have a game for about six weeks. In this time we lost all our early session drive and were unlucky to lose several vital players late in the first half of the season, notably both our second-rowers Stuart Nettlefold and Michael Boardman.

After the break we again soundly defeated Taroona but we weren't at our best. In our next game we had our first loss of the season, to Glenorchy. By some twist of fate we then had 2 games left both against H.M.C. The first we won 11-0 and the next was the replay of the game postponed earlier on in the season. The game was played on a week-night under floodlights and due to H.M.C.s. more determined play we went down 11-7. With all the roster games now finished we were in second place on the ladder — behind Glenorchy who had only lost one game (to us) and in front of H.M.C. who had lost four games to our two. Taroona and Easts were both out of it. In the semi-final we went down to H.M.C. 11-10 and rather unluckily because we spent most of the second half camped on their line. Congratulations must go to Glenorchy who beat H.M.C. in the grand final and to H.M.C. who improved dramatically throughout the season, whereas our form declined.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank both our coaches, Dr. Keith Bailey and Alan Bouzie who both gave up a considerable amount of time and effort to help us.

I would also like to thank James Walch and the rest of the team for their continued support throughout the season with special mentions going to Dave Standish and Dan Tucker.

Mr. Smith again produced a grand final Under 16 team but unfortunately saw them beaten by Easts. All in all they had a very successful year with their highlight being a thrilling mid-season win over Easts (who had not lost a game for two and a half years). The team was very well led by Dave Curran (who also captained the Tasmanian U16 team — the third year in a row Hutchins has produced a Captain for this team) and hard workers throughout the year were Mark Buckingham, Alan Tacey, James Freeman and Simon Barker. As well as thanking Mr. Smith, the team would also like to thank Mr. Colhoun for his valuable comments, advice and tremendous enthusiasm throughout the season.

The Under 14 team also reached their grand final but were defeated by Taroona. This was a very close competition and our team were unlucky as they had beaten Taroona earlier on in the season. The team was well captained by Alistair McLeod and there were several state representatives. Thanks must go to their coach Mr. Millhouse for his tireless work throughout the season.

The Under 12 side in its first year made a great impact on the competition Although hampered by numbers at times, they won a majority of matches and some fine players were discovered. Thanks goes to Mr. David Smith for his time and effort in starting what we hope will be an institution from now on.

THREE HUNTERS A school first: three brothers, Peter, Richard and Robert Hunter played in one Hutchins rugby team against a New Zealand school side. HOCKEY – 1ST XI

Our first eleven had rather a disappointing season, which was to be expected after losing nine players from our 1980 team. With only one win for the season our stocks appear to be rather low, but this is not so as after two crushing defeats early, much improvement was evident later in the year. With the return of two experienced players plus the coming of age of several first year players all opposition teams were given tough encounters. In our final game against Elizabeth Matric, an eventual finalist, we went down in a close match 1 - 0.

The back line was possibly our main strength, with James Ebsworth and Nigel Mallett performing consistently well throughout the season; but much potential is evident on the forward line, and with most available for 1982, prospects are bright for next year.

We are fortunate in having such an experienced coach Lloyd Rahnie, who had played state hockey with West Australian Colts. His ability to communicate and inspire younger players and the leadership of Kent Chalmers (Captain), Philip Headlam and James Ebsworth (Vice-Captains) went a long way towards moulding a team which was a credit to the school in 1981 and is sure to perform well in 1982.

CROSS COUNTRY Captain: J. Triffitt Master-In-Charge: D. Harris Esg.

On Saturday 26th September, the Southern Combined Independent Schools Cross Country was held at Risdon Brook Dam. The team of 75 members had trained for around 2 months and were in peak condition for all their events. The conditions on the day were good for running, except for occasional blustery winds, hence the scene was set for an exciting, and hopefully successful day.

Although there were many fine individual team performances, it was a great team effort and there was a definite spirit within the group. This led to us winning the aggregate shield with a total of 244 points (St. Virgils were second with 470, then came Dominic with 719 and lastly was Friends with 773.) Hutchins won each age group convincingly except for the U14s, who finished a close second to S.V.C. Individual trophies were won by J. Mahoney, 1st, U12, S. Kelly and P. Garrott, 1st equal, U13, K. Churchill, 1st U15 and A. Barnes, 1st in the U16s.

This was not the end of our successes as the Open Team won the E.W. Barwick Shield, hence completing the double. Over a gruelling 8kms, R. McMahon finished 5th, J. Triffitt 6th, S. Tanner 7th, R. Campbell 8th, J. Furness 9th, J. McCullum 10th, R. Hunter 12th, J. Walch 13th and S. Nettlefold 14th. This outstanding result reflects the determination and effort of the whole team. The other results were:

U12 – J. Mahoney 1st, J. Temple 2nd, R. Atkins 3rd, S. Terry 4th, N. Kelly 6th and T. Peterwood 7th. (4kms).

U13 - S. Kelly and P. Garrott 1st equal, J. Garrett 6th, M. Palmer 8th, J. Munnings 13th and M. Hadley 15th. (4kms).

U14 – P. Nelson 4th, M. Bradshaw 5th, D. Elias 10th, R. Bignall 11th, T. Parsons 12th and T. Gorringe 13th. (4kms).

U15 – K. Churchill 1st, R. Page 3rd, S. Edgerton 6th, P. Jones 8th, S. Garrett 14th and P. Colhoun 15th. (4kms).

U16 – A. Barnes 1st, D. Giblin 2nd, S. Parsons 4th, J. Harrex 5th, M. Triffitt 7th and P. Clark 9th. (6kms).

Thanks must go to Mr. Harris and Mr. Zagel for their time, effort and enthusiasm in coaching the underage teams and also to each individual team member who was prepared to put in many hours training during the season.

SOCCER

Although our results suggest only an average year, the Hutchins 1st XI enjoyed one of its most promising seasons, with several matches lost only through inexperience. We were desperately unlucky not to win our first two matches, leading 2-0 agains E.M.C. in the first only to lose 3-2 and in the second being on level terms 1-1 against H.M.C. only to slump to a 5-1 loss in the last ten minutes. Victory in these games may have led to a premiership. These two early losses were followed by our biggest victory of the season, winning 10-0 against Rosny, with many players scoring goals. A second victory followed this game with a hard fought 2-1 win against S.V.C. Our knockout cup hopes meanwhile were lost in the mud of the cross-roads with a disappointing 3-0 loss to E.M.C. The next two games produced our best football of the season resulting in a brilliant 3-1 win against a much stronger Rosny and a narrow 1-0 loss to H.M.C. the eventual premiers. Unfortunately the season ended on a low note with a 4-2 loss to S.V.C. on the miniature Warrane ground leaving us 3rd behind H.M.C. and E.M.C. from a league of 5 sides.

Many of this year's players came from the Vth Form and much credit should be given to a coach Les Richardson for the development of these young players. Hugh Fiddy was a tower of strength in defence, James Omond a handy man in midfield and Chris Green a focal point in attack. A. Docking, P. Wardle and K. Tsiakis improved with every game. Thanks should go to Les Richardson for his untiring work and involvement. Position Plaved Won Drav 3 7 0 3rd Thorold won the House Soccer Competition Results School 3 v Bucks 0 Losers Final: B

The Under 13 division one side suffered only one defeat during the season but this was enough to cost them the premiership. The team won the Knock Out Cup on penalties after the scores were tied after extra time.

The Under 12 team, which played in the Under 13 Division two league, was underfeated in roster games to take out the premiership. Their only loss was in the Knock Out Cup which was played during the vacation.

League Soccer was again enjoyed by all who participated. 1113

ATHLETICS

1981 proved to be the most successful year for the athletics team in over a decade being the first time we have won the Island *Athletics since 1968. The results of the Southern Combined Athletics held at the Domain Athletic centre were: Hutchins 738; St. Virgils 655.5; Friends 459.5 and Dominic 367. The results of the Island Combined. also held at the Domain were: Hutchins 425; St. Virgils 416; St. Patricks 386; Launceston Grammar 314; Scotch Oakburn 268; Friends 251; Marist Regional College 242 and Dominic 202.

The team was supposed to begin training in the last few days of the August holidays but only a few bothered to turn up, so training really began after the beginning of the term (and a blistering talk from Mr. Hoskins). Most athletes trained two or three times per week and this led to the first test of the season - the House Athletics, held at the Domain. Thorold came first, with School in second place, Steves third and Bucks bringing up the tail. After this, the final team was picked and really began to aim for the Southern Athletics to be held on October 10th. Several weeks earlier, the cross-country team had resoundingly won the Inter-School Cross Country and this gave the whole athletics team an enormous confidence boost.

October 10th saw the team

begin the day very confidently and with the tremendous support given by all ages of the school, this confidence and determination to win grew all day. The final scores speak for themselves. Outstanding in our win was the Under 16 age group which won every event, including Anthony Baker's record breaking leap of 2.03 m. (about 6'8'') in the high jump.

After the Southern sports our team statisticians told us that we had had more first placings than St. Virgils so we therefore believed ourselves to be favourites but we knew the northern schools (especially St. Patricks, which had won the Northern Athletics by 140 points) would make it much tougher and they did.

The date was October 17th and it was a neck and neck struggle all day as Hutchins and St. Virgils slowly pulled away from St. Pats. With four events to go, the scoreboard told us that we were leading by one point.

As each of these last races was run, we kept score and to our horror we realized at the end that it was a draw. However, after a time, it was revealed that the scoreboard had been wrong and we had won by nine points.

Once again, there was tremendous support on the "hill" for the team and we could claim to have the loudest support at both meetings. This great support again boosted our confidence and above all our determination which can be illustrated by the last race of the day, the Open 400m. Francisco Tamavo, believing he had to win for us to take out the competition ran an astonishing 50.9 seconds for the distance -2.1 seconds faster than his previous personal best. However, he came second to the St. Virgil's runner. Little did he know that he could have come last and we still would have won. Such was the determination of the whole team.

Throughout the season, the entire team put in a great effort and our thanks must go to Mr. Hoskins, Mr. Harris, Mr. Zagel, Mr. Brammall, Mr. Young, Mr. Waley, Mr.Millington, Dr. Gibbs and all those who supported us on both days. Robert Hand must be congratulated for organizing and leading the team with such dedication.

TENNIS

The 1981 Tennis season has given a great deal of satisfaction to the 60 boys who have participated. This number has taxed to the limit our school facilities and it was necessary for teams from the Middle School to use Glenora Courts. This 'spilling' of teams has not allowed a true combined spirit to be developed between all teams.

Our firsts team, finishing a close second to St. Virgil's College, had its best season for some years. Under the guidance of 'Rocket' Curnow and Captain Kent Chalmers it comfortably accounted for Friends School and Dominic College, but lost to St. Virgil's in the first round and when expecting to reverse the result in the next match lost the opportunity when play was abandoned because of rain.

The future for school's tennis looks extremely bright as our under 15 team, for the third year running, came out on top. This team was coached by Mr. Clipstone with Paul Willis as Captain.

With the completion of five new courts expected in February 1982 Hutchins will have facilities unequalled in the state and can confidently look forward to an upsurge in numbers of boys taking up tennis.

Many of our present day players owe a lot for their success to Mr. P. Harris who has been coaching, on a professional basis, at the school for many years. One person, whom he can claim to have coached years ago, was John Newcombe.

School Championships have been conducted since 1929 and the perpetual trophy for the Senior School Champion for 1980 was won for the second year running by Kent Chalmers. In the Middle School, Raimondo Cortese was successful, and this junior, who played in the open team will offer stiff opposition to Senior School players in 1982.

BADMINTON

GIRLS BADMINTON

This year the girls formed the first ever girls badminton team. Although Mr. Cripps volunteered his expertise in coaching us, it was to no avail. Despite our perseverance and continual practice we were unable to score much success. However, each of us did our best and enjoyed playing the other teams in a social game.

We would like to thank "Jeffine" and "Michelle" for their services; the staff who gave up their time to supervise the matches; all the organisers and the boys for their constant heckling at practices and matches.

SQUASH

Finals were all held over until this term, which has proved to be unsatisfactory because of the clashes with other activities starting in third term.

The two under 15 teams both reached the final, and had two very close encounters before S. Whitton, T. Medhurst, A. Shepherd and J. Ikin defeated J. Munnings, S. Richardson, T. Kinstler and R. Cortese to take out the premiership.

In the B Divisions, our B2 side unexpectedly flopped after ending up 2nd in the competition, and were eliminated in the preliminary finals, The team was K. Millington, M. Johns, G. Self and R. Henry.

In division 1, our two teams had to contend with each other to enter the final, and P. Willis, D. Bury, A. Barnes and A. Atkins got the better of J. Furness, M. Triffitt, R. Haig and R. Benjamin (the latter team created specially of members of the first XVIII). The final against St. Virgil's saw us get within 3points of outright victory after Bury had won 3-0 and Atkins had picked up a game: A. Barnes led 2-0 and 6-3, and had he won the third game the match was over. But it was not to be and from that moment onwards the tide turned. P. Willis, at number one, had an excellent season, filling in at A grade as well on occasions.

The A grade final was held on October 6th against Friend's, and in an exciting match we managed to scrape home by the odd game (with points exactly level) to win the premiership and retain an unbeaten record for the season.

BASKETBALL

Master-In-Charge: M. Fishburn Esq. Captain: C. Young

The S.T.I.S.S.B.A. competition began this year with a total of five Hutchins teams. Each side to date has posted a winning season, with the U15's closest to a Championship. The Open side faltered badly in its bid to return a premiership.

After improving dramatically on their effort of the first game, the U13 team has demonstrated better skills and more determination. Coaches Dr. Ludwig and Mr. Boucher have worked hard to develop this better showing, and players such as P. Anderson and C. Shepherd have shown immense potential as future players.

Mr. Lincolne's U14's were undefeated through the first round and only a momentary lack of concentration caused their demise against Friends. Players D. Archer and J. Garrett have contributed much to the team's success and a possible premiership.

The U15's at the moment are undefeated and have shown the strongest determination and display of skill of all the underage squads. Coach L. Baker has guided them capably and their response has been dramatic. I. McMahon, P. Lester and M. Hughes have been particularly meritorious.

The U16's have gradually developed into a strong side posting their only losses to S.V.C. Mr. Coote believes many, particularly A. Bowes and A. Barker, will be of immense value to the Open squad next year.

The Opens began the season in the second term posting narrow victories over Rosny Matric and gaining valuable experience in defeats against the top State side H.M.C. As a new team with only C. Young, C. Gray and R. Benjamin returning from last year, there was much rebuilding needed. We lost the first match to Friends by 2 points and were unlucky not to win against a team boasting State players. The next two games saw strong wins against Dominic and S.V.C. as the scoring improved.

The second game against Friends determined the premiership. A very defensive struggle developed as the score see-sawed. The end result was a close 4 point loss to Hutchins. The final record was 4 wins and 2 losses and second place in the competition.

An admirable result in light of the relative lack of experience of the younger players.

The following represents the players record over the season.

Special thanks must go to all those players, coaches, officials and parents who provided their time and energy and helped make 1981 yet another successful basketball season.

BUCKLAND HOUSE

J. Triffitt, D. Harris Esq., R. Hunter, L. Clipstone Esq., C. Wood Esg.

The Cock House competition this year has been the closest one for many years, with Bucks having as good a chance as any of being Cock House winners for 1981. At the present moment only four points separate first and last place, but there are very few events to go,

This year saw the introduction of a system whereby an individual could only represent the house in one of the major sports in that term. This gave more people an opportunity of representing the house which certainly makes for a more enjoyable and closer house competition which can be demonstrated by the results mentioned above. I certainly think that it is a very worthwhile idea and one that should be continued.

The Cock House competition started well for Bucks as it has done for the past few years with an unlucky second place in the swimming competition and a good second place to Thorold in the cricket.

Another good result during 1st term, was a second placing in House Drama due to some fine acting by the Bucks cast. Other results included 3rd in rowing (a fine effort considering the fierce competition) 4th in tennis and 3rd in sailing.

Second term began with an exciting football match between the 1st XVIII-packed School House Team and the underdogs, Buckland Team. A tremendous team effort produced what was almost the upset of the year but this was not to be as School managed to hold out and win by a few points. The subsequent games saw us pull ourselves up to take 2nd place. Another excellent result this term was debating, where we 54 came second overall, with an especially good result coming from the 5th form team, who went through their competition undefeated which bodes well for the future. Although we had a strong hockey team, the calibre of our players was not reflected in our 3rd placing, despite being urged on by enormous crowds (for some "unknown" reason). A lack of effort on the part of some members of the house cost us a good placing in the cross country competition, and we finished 3rd. Another 3rd place was obtained in the soccer competition, mainly due to our shortage of regular soccer players. At this stage, the competition was still very close, with everything vesting on the results of the 3rd term's events.

Again we started well, with a 1st place in the squash competition and an excellent first in the Impromptu Speaking, mainly due to a very good team effort where only 1 point separated all our speakers, with Nick Lintzeris being a co-winner of the event. However, success eluded us in both the Athletics and Basketball, with two very close last positions.

All in all it has been a most enjoyable year, capped off by the fact that the House competition is so close. I would like to thank each of the individual captains for accepting the responsibility and doing a very commendable job in the respective activities with a final note of thanks going to those masters who helped run the house at various stages during the year.

SCHOOL HOUSE

I. McQueen Esg., A. Holyman, Dr. G. Stephens Esg., M. Elder.

1981 has been another successful year for School House, and with continued effort the house could take Cock House for a record 5 times in a row.

The House started the year with a good win in Swimming which makes it a first for us in the history of the competition. Good leadership was shown by Marcus Elder who set a good example for the rest of the team to follow. This win in Swimming broke a pattern for Thorold and unfortunately Steves broke a pattern for us in Rowing when a certain oar kept on getting caught (sorry Jim) and the crew finished a close second behind them.

Captain of Sailing, Mark Chesterman, led his sailing team onto a fine second place in the house sailing. This is an improvement of two places over the previous sailing efforts of years before.

Second term saw the best results for School House with the usual win in Football, Jain Burbury led the way and was well supported by Kip Gray, Jim Ried, and a dashing Dave Archer who should shine in house footy for years to come. Hockey was a surprise of the second term events with a good second place moving us off the bottom rung in hockey. This had been our situation in the past. Congratulations must be extended to Captain Nick Mallett and the team. Cross Country under the leadership of James Walch showed how School House runs and stays as a team with a good win. No individuals should be pointed out as it was an excellent team effort and the whole house should be congratulated.

The third term competition has seen a close. second place in Athletics where we lost to Thorold by only 5 points. Still to be decided in the third term events are Basketball in which School with one game left to play, looks like taking it out. In Standards, under the guide of Fiona Clarke, School hold a handy lead and look like taking this out also. Mathew Bryan is Captain of Chess and prospects for a victory aren't exactly hot.

Unfortunately in the acting and speaking section, School, under the guidance of Doom and Walshy, had the right recipe but unfortunately it was not quite cooked enough and we finished with a third, an equal third and a fourth.

The House would like to thank Dr. Stephens for his leadership and help in hopefully bringing up another successful year for School House.

I would like to wish School House the very best of luck for next year and hope they can win Cock House again.

STEPHENS HOUSE

R.A. Morton Esg., C.D. Smith Esg., S. Nettlefold, C. Rae Esg.

1981 has been a successful year for Steves house and the way things are shaping up, any of the four houses could take out the Cock House. If Steves can put in strong efforts in standards and chess, which are yet to be decided, then the Cock House may very well be ours.

First term saw Steves leap ahead to lead the competition. In the Tennis K. Chalmers led his team to a fine first place with the help of his team-mates J. Ebsworth, J. Williams, D. Bingham and D. Pretyman. The swimmers improved on last year by coming in 3rd place where S. Hutcheon, A. Atkins, C. Clifford, H. Fiddy, J. Ebsworth and K. Hallett (the first girl swimmer to ever participate) all donated gallant efforts. The rowers put up an excellent effort by putting a halt to School House's long record of 5 consecutive wins, the crew being A. Walker, B. Wagner, A. King, S. Nettlefold and R. Hayes (cox). The sailing team led by D. Williams saw Steves take out another first place, where very good efforts were put in by the Anderson Bros., G. Williams, R. Hayes, S. Collier and C. Clifford. The star actors of the house, C. Dow-Sainter, A. Atkins and J. Scrivener, all put in very fine performances, but were unlucky to finish an equal third with School.

Second term saw Steves get off to a not so good start where we recorded a 4th place in the Soccer, however good efforts were put in by I. Colhoun and H. Fiddy. The house spirit was soon to be lifted when the hockey team led by K. Chalmers with the fine assistance of S. Tanner, D. Bingham and J. Ebsworth, took out the Hockey competition. The football team, after drawing with School in the winners final, were 56 unlucky to eventually take out third place.

The team was led by G. Williams with good efforts also put in by R. Haig, J. Morrisby, R. McMahon, A. King and A. Atkins. Steves finished a good second in the Cross Country and it must be said that all runners put in consistent efforts. In the Squash A. Whitton led his team to a commendable second.

To cap off the year Steves had its ups and downs in third term where we recorded a third place in the Athletics, with very good efforts put in by A. Clay, S. Tanner, R. McMahon, H. Fiddy and R. Claxton, The impromptu speakers and debaters took out 3rd and 4th respectively. The Steves Basketball team, led by R. McMahon, who were known for their great comebacks in the second half, look certain to take out 2nd place. A cricket match has yet to be played between Steves and School to decide third and fourth places. As stressed before, Steves are looking for strong efforts in the two remaining competitions, if the Cock House is to come within our grasp.

Finally, thanks must go to Mr. Smith as house master, for his tremendous enthusiasm in leadership and encouragement. Thanks must also go to the upper sixth boys (for helping in organisation throughout the year), team captains and participators who all helped to maintain a high house spirit.

THOROLD HOUSE

J. Furness, R. Curnow Esg., M. Fishburn Esg., J. Ludwig Esg., R. Benjamin.

Thorold's performance in 1981 has been surprisingly successful. Full participation from all in the House has been stressed, and thus the emphasis has been on strong team effort, which has, for the first time in some years, been forthcoming. The Cock House Competition this year is the most closely contested for many years, and this factor or Thorold's performance has helped keep it in the running while it does not possess as many outstanding athletes as the other houses.

The year began well with a great win in the cricket (for the third year running) in a hard fought battle with Bucks in the final, where Mark Shearman and James Omond steered the side to victory with some brilliant batting.

This trend continued with a good second in a very even tennis competition.

The highlight of this term was undoubtedly the Drama team's first ever victory. Solid performances by all the cast of "the New Model Army" ensured this excellent result. A topsy-turvy first term was completed with disappointing 4th places in rowing, sailing and swimming, but there were many triers in the latter, none better than Curran, Herbst, Tsiakis, Menzie, S. Docking and Sakell.

Second term also began brightly with a convincing first in soccer, where Shearman J. Omond, Tsiakis and Green played extremely well. The hockey players tried hard but were well beaten, similarly the footballers, where Eagling, Johns, Williams, R. Baker, A. Baker and Benjamin led the way. The Squash competition produced an extremely unlucky result. The team of Bury, Furness, Benjamin and Willis defeated Steves and School and only narrowly went down to the winners Bucks by one game, yet still ended up third in the competition.

Cross Country is always a problem for Thorold, but even though the result was disappointing, Sakell, Cochrane, Willis, Longdon, Edgerton, Churchill, Curran and Benjamin finished in very good positions and led the whole team by example.

Spirits were lifted by the literary performers with Sherman Young doing an excellent job in the Debating win and the Impromptu Speaking second place. A magnificent, total team effort in the Athletics kept the ball rolling. This win was largely due to the strong leadership provided by Seddon, Tamayo, A. Baker, R. Baker and Sakell, who fostered a tightly knit team who all competed vigorously.

At the time of writing, Chess, Basketball and Standards are yet to be completed but all promise success and will be very keenly contested as Cock House is within the grasp of all houses.

This year has seen Thorold emerge with a team of great depth and many promising performances. The future looks bright as there are many fine young athletes in the house who can continue to be a force with strong leadership and team attitude and approach to all events. Thanks must go to Mr. Fishburn for his tireless efforts, and also to Dr. Ludwig and Mr. Curnow for their assistance.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

1981 has been a special year for the Middle School as it marked the occupation of our "new" Middle School block

The building, which consists of six classrooms and allied facilities was opened on March 20th by His Excellency, Sir Stanley Burbury, Governor of Tasmania, and a Service of Dedication was led by the School's Visitor, The Right Reverend Dr. Robert Davies, in his capacity as Bishop of Tasmania.

At the service we welcomed back many of our old Middle School friends, especially Mr. Frank Williams (Head of Middle School from 1960-69) and Mr. George McKay (former deputy-Head of Middle School during the 70's).

All the Form 2 classes and half of the Form 3 year-group occupy the new area. Two other Form 3 groups remain in the "Old" building.

The facilities of the "New" block are greatly appreciated by both Staff and pupils and we are most grateful to all those who have made this concept possible.

The Middle School for 1981 consisted of 8 classes (222 pupils): Four at Form 2 and four at Form 3 level. We welcomed on to the Staff Mr. Scott Young, a former pupil of the School, as a Form Master and Phys. Ed. teacher. Other Form Masters for 1981 were Mr. R. McCammon, Mr. A. Dear, Mr. N. Rumble, Mr. M. Arnold, Mr. R. Harvey-Latham, Mr. I. Millhouse and Mr. M. Paton.

We congratulate Mr. John Millington who this year completed 25 years of continuous teaching at the School. the last 12 as Head of Middle School.

Leaders and Captains

The Middle School Leaders for 1981 were Peter Anderson, Charles Bignell, Matthew Bradshaw, David Elias, Andrew Fisher, Jason Garrett, Andrew Harvey, Jon Morris, Jonathan Munnings and Timothy Parsons.

House Captains were Nicholas Freeman (Buckland), Charles Bignell (School), Bruce Davey (Stephens) and Matthew Bradshaw (Thorold).

Congratulations to:

Richard Scrivener, on being Junior Impromptu Orator, 1981. Mark Sinclair, on winning the H.D. Erwin Scholarship. Vrendon Nelson, on winning the Nicholas Brown Scholarship. David Elias, on coming 2nd in the Junior Section of the State Maths Competition.

David Knowles, who received an Honourable Mention in the State Maths Competition.

Robert Winterbottom who was a prize winner in the National Maths Competition.

The 22 boys who were awarded distinctions and the 35 who were awarded credits in the National Maths Competition.

The 6 Middle School boys who gained awards in this year's Alliance Francaise Competition.

Stuart Coward, Bartley Headlam and John Tisch, who all took part in "West Side Story".

Jonathan Munnings who won the Middle School Squash Championship for 1981.

Nicholas Loney, James Harrison, George Kalis, Richard Scrivener, Andrew Harvey and Andrew Smith, who all represented the State in under-age Rugby.

Richard Matterson, Richard Fader, Stuart Sharman, Nicholas Loney and Michael Cooper, who all represented the State in Sailing. Andrew Cooley, and Christopher North who represented Southern Tasmania in under-age Hockey.

The under 12 and under 13 Cross Country teams for their fine wins in inter-school competition.

The under 13A Soccer team and the under 14 Football team for winning their respective premierships. The under 13A and B and Rowing Crews for their fine win in the Head of the River.

Scott Millington, Nicholas Freeman and Matthew Watton for their performances in swimming.

Nicholas Kelly, Peter Anderson, Jason Mahoney, Matthew Hale, David Elias, Troy Bennet and the under 12 relay team for their excellent wins in inter-school athletics.

Christopher Targett for winning a prize in a junior computer contest.

As these notes go to print there are still 4 more activities to be held to decide Cock House for 1981, namely Cricket, Standard Athletics, Debating and Class Work Term 3. At the moment it is a tight struggle between Stephens, School and Thorold with Buckland lagging a little behind.

Middle School Cock House for 1980 was Stephens House. Special Thanks.

We would like to record our special thanks to the Parents and Friends Association for providing us with a 16mm movie projector and an overhead projector. Both pieces of equipment are proving most valuable. In conclusion.

Finally we would like to wish bon voyage to 5 boys who are leaving us this year to continue their schooling on the mainland. To the 108 Form 3 boys moving into Senior School we wish you the best of good fortune and hope that your two years in the Middle School have been both beneficial and enjoyable.

This year the magazine committee received two excellent contributions from old boys. Because of the guality, it was felt that two precis together would not do justice to each other, so Dr. Michael Bryden's contribution on Antarctic research is being held for publication in 1982.

SPACE — THE INFINITE CHALLENGE

By Hamish Lindsay

1952.

Extracts from the HUTCHINS SCHOOL MAGAZINE Science Jottings, December, 1952.

"TO THE MOON IN TEN YEARS.

H.P. Wilkins, a Director of the British Astronomical Association, has made the startling declaration that it will be possible to fly to the moon in ten years

..... Fred Hoyle, a Cambridge mathematician (and now noted astronomer), goes so far as to say that even with the rapid developments of the rocket, one would have to be an optimist to believe that a trip to the moon and back will be safely accomplished within a century

..... Lt. Col. James Bain, Director of rocket development in the U.S. War Department has 'debunked' the talk of rocket flight to the moon'

1961.

President John F. Kennedy, 25th May.

"I believe that this nation should commit itself to achieving the goal, before this decade is out, of landing a man on the moon and returning him safely to earth. No single space project in this period will be more impressive to mankind, or more important in the long range exploration of space, and none will be so difficult or expensive to accomplish.'

1969.

At the moon, 21st July.

Armstrong and Aldrin were slipping along in the Eagle above the lunar surface, face down, their feet pointing in the direction of flight, while they studied the terrain below. Armstrong had planned to land manually, "because the computer doesn't know how to pick a good area, and can't change its mind. Side stepping hazardous craters and boulders, Armstrong landed the Lunar Module gently in a clear area, 6.4 metres from the target, with 30 seconds of fuel remaining. Meanwhile, out of sight on the other side of the earth, in the mountains to the south west of Canberra, Honeysuckle Creek Tracking Station was humming with tension, as the technical staff prepared to relay the pictures of the first human to step onto another celestial body. In a grey, wintery world outside, the 26 metre antenna probed through passing sleet showers to pick up the signal from the Eagle at 1112, local time, and the station stood by to feed the greatest television audience in history, and estimated 600 million people, a fifth of the world's population, with pictures of Armstrong's first step.

At 1256, AEST, Armstrong stepped off the Eagle, and announced, "THATS ONE SMALL STEP FOR MAN, ONE GIANT LEAP FOR MANKIND."..... now for the rest of time we can think of ourselves as beings from the planet Earth.

* * * * * * * *

Spaceflight had its origins in the minds and imagination of many forward thinking people down the ages. An ancient Chinese legend from around 2,000 BC tells how Wan Pou, a rich Mandarin, built a 'space vessel' propelled by 47 rockets, lit by 47 slaves, but it was destroyed by an exploding rocket.

However it was the formation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in October, 1958, that began the 'golden age' of space. Under NASA the space program fell into three clearly defined categories:

* Earth oriented or near space

* Deep space

* Manned space flight.

EARTH ORIENTED

This is a very busy group, and the world's population has seen an enormous impact on its lifestyle brought about by the multitude of spacecraft orbiting the earth. In communications, the common household member has become blase about daily weather details and pictures from space, and is getting used to sitting up all night watching sporting and major events in Europe and the United States. Recently a workers union officially requested a day off to recover from an all night session at the television watching the marriage of Prince Charles to Lady Diana!

Artists concept of the Voyager spacecraft on its way to Uranus

Navigation has been simplified with specialist spacecraft, developments, as usual, being led by the defence satellites. Using the Transit system of satellites, it is possible for even small boats to press a button and read their position in all weathers to within a few metres, while current developments have the instrument carrying on a two way conversation with the navigator.

Orroral Valley Tracking Station, tucked away in a valley 60 kilometres south west of Canberra, has been involved with the earth orbiting space programs. It makes contact with more than a dozen different satellites each day, some more than once, and often up to three simultaneously. One example is the Japanese GMS satellite which is parked in a stationary orbit above Australia, and can provide our weather bureau with a picture of the continent every 7 minutes, and collects data from hundreds of weather beacons all around Australia to relay the information direct to weather bureau in Melbourne.

Landsat.

Our 'Big Brother' up in the skies.

Last year the Australian Government bought into the American Landsat system, and have opened an office in Canberra for the public to obtain direct access to pictures of any part of Australia with a resolution down to the size of a football field. The next generation of spacecraft should improve this by a factor of 10. Apart from media attracting information such as catching cheating wheat farmers and locating drug growing farms, Landsat has enormous potential to help in human management of the earth in energy, resources, food production, and environmental monitoring, both on global and parochial scales. Within hours an entire region can be mapped to distinguish all types of crops, wet fields, ploughed fields, and pinpoint plant and foliage diseases. You have to remember we are only at the beginning of this exciting phase of our existence on this planet Earth.

DEEP SPACE

Exploration of the solar system had its origins with tracking missiles for the U.S. Army during World War 11, and by the 1950's had progressed to plans by the Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA) to send vehicles into space, with facilities for keeping in contact using a world wide tracking network. With the formation of NASA in 1958, these ambitious schemes were absorbed into the Administration's plans, and by 1959 unmanned missions to the planets quickly moved from 'ridiculous' and 'impossible' to 'feasible' and 'politically desirable', pressure being applied by Russia's growing list of space spectaculars.

NASA put the exploration of the solar system into the hands of the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Los Angeles.

This group, beating the Russians for the first spacecraft to leave the earth and arrive at another planet with Mariner 2 to Venus in 1962, now has spacecraft spread all over the solar system, tracked daily by the Deep Space Network (DSN) which consists of complexes at Goldstone, California, Madrid, Spain and Canberra.

The DSN selected Australia for the first overseas deep space tracking installation, and by September, 1960, had built a 26 metre antenna and station at Island Lagoon, Woomera, which began life tracking the Ranger series of spacecraft, designed to crash onto the Moon's surface while taking television pictures. It is interesting to realise that it took seven attempts to actually hit the moon in those days of developing space expertise!!

With a heavy program ahead, the DSN elected to build another series of tracking stations, and this time chose a site near Canberra, as they were finding it hard to attract staff to the harsh conditions at Woomera. In March, 1965, the Tidbinbilla Tracking Station opened, and was soon extended with a second antenna of 64 metres diameter. After the Skylab mission in 1974. Honeysuckle Creek joined the DSN, and the manned flights were taken over by Orroral Valley. Tidbinbilla is now known as the Canberra Deep Space Communication Complex.

The huge 64 metre antenna, known as the 'Big Dish', is a place full of hidden superlatives - people are not generally aware of the amazing specifications required to track the tiny spacecraft and their faint signals as they pick their way through the moons and rings of the outer planets. For instance the feeble signal transmitted by the spacecraft, usually around 10 watts, arrives at the earth in such a weak state it would take almost 17 million years to collect enough power to light a torch globe for one thousandth of a second.

There is a very sophisticated system for aiming the 3,000 tonne antenna structure to an accuracy of 15 thousandths of a degree, while the station timing system has a drift rate of something like 1 second in 3 million years, and an accuracy to the world standard of less than 15 thousand millionths of a second checked and set by a system using Pulsars and spacecraft called Very Long Based Interferometry (VLBI). This system can also measure the distance between continents down to 10 centimetres, which means, of course, we can follow continental drift. Only a few years ago these were impossible figures.

Unfortunately, at the moment, Deep Space exploration is under a fiscal cloud, with JPL and NASA having a struggle to convince Congress that the next project such as the probe and orbiter for Jupiter (Galileo), a solar polar mission over the top and under the sun (so far yet to be explored), and a Halley's Comet mission should be funded. Results from the planetary explorations so far have been spectacular. Mariner missions to Mercury have found a barren world somewhat like our moon, while the Pioneer-Venus spacecraft have found a hell far more horrific than our traditional picture of mere fire and flames. Imagine trying to survive in a world with an atmosphere of Carbon 65

Dioxide at a temperature of 480°C and a crushing pressure a hundred times the earth's, where walking would be like struggling through syrup, with sulphuric acid droplets floating around in a dull red glare of full daylight. It is significant that neither American nor Russian spacecraft, using the toughest materials known to man, have survived for much more than a single hour on the surface of Venus — known as the Lovers' Star!

We landed two spacecraft on the surface of Mars back in 1976, and one is still sending us weather reports when we care to track it. Compared to Venus, Mars is a very docile world, the worst it has dished out so far has been global dust storms. In a Carbon Dioxide atmosphere of only 8 millibars, the Viking landers were unable to find any sign of life, even under rocks. The two orbiting spacecraft found some surface features of interest, among them the highest mountain in the solar system now called Olympus Mons, and the canyon Valles Marineris, as long as the distance from Sydney to Perth.

Mighty Jupiter, a ball of gas bigger than all of the other planets combined, could swallow 1,300 earths. The two Voyager spacecraft that flew past Jupiter and its moons in 1979 have sent back some of the most stunning scenes yet seen from space, and include movies of the seething surface and circling moons. Perhaps the biggest surprise were the volcances on lo, more violent than any on earth, including Krakatoa. Voyager also photographed lightning on the dark side of the planet, and heard whistles generated by the super bolts.

"After Jupiter, we were afraid the Saturn encounter was going to be a bust," declared one of the JPL scientists, as the pictures coming from Saturn at the time looked rather insipid after the size and violence of Jupiter. However, after the Voyagers had passed Saturn, a whole new and exciting field opened up, and the scientists were bubbling with baffling subjects such as law-defying braided rings, shepherding satellites, mysterious spokes, gravity repelling objects, ammonia rain, and another set of moons — Mimas, almost swallowed by its own crater, icy Enceladus, the brightest object in the solar system reflecting back almost 100% of the light falling on it (compared with our moon's 11%), Dione and Rhea with their strange wispy streaks, and the mysterious Titan. During a recent lecture given to us at Tidbinbilla, Dr. Charles Stembridge, one of the science directors on the Voyager team, described a strange world under the clouds of Titan of rather nasty black methane lakes, rivers and rain. With a mainly Nitrogen atmosphere like the earth, but at 4½ times the pressure, he said they visualise Titan as an embryo earth prevented from further development by its small size and cold temperature.

So while a rather sick Voyager 2 sets out on a course for Uranus, Back on earth we are busy modernising our ground stations to reflect the latest technology, and experimenting with arraying (connecting together) all available antennas in Canberra, and possibly adding the CSIRO's 64 metre radio telescope at Parkes, last used by the NASA networks during the Apollo missions, to improve the signal reception from the much greater distance of Uranus. After Uranus in the summer of 1986, Voyager 2 will continue on to Neptune, where it will take over 5 hours for the signal to reach us at the speed of light. After Neptune in the spring of 1989, Voyager 2 will then chase Pioneers 10 and 11, and Voyager 1 out of the solar system and begin a voyage to eternity in the vastness of the Milky Way Galaxy, taking 80,000 years to travel the equivalent distance to the nearest star, Alpha Centauri. Although the Voyagers carry enough fuel to maintain their altitude for 100 years, we will finally lose them from sheer distance and diminishing signals before the turn of the century, but scientists are hoping to keep in touch until the last remnants of the solar wind can be detected, to determine the outer boundary of our sun's domain, somewhere beyond Pluto.

On the off chance of being intercepted by intelligent life, somewhere in the galaxy, sometime in the future, messages have been incorporated on board these spacecraft, the two Pioneers having a plaque detailing the origin of the spacecraft, while the Voyagers have records with spoken messages and the sounds of earth. One wonders what another civilisation would make of the sound of a steam train and whistle!

We will never know the fate of these lonely first messengers to our galactic neighbours, while they will never know the fate of their creators, or even the fate of their home planet Earth.

MANNED SPACE FLIGHT

The first manned flight into space began on the 12th of April. 1961, when Yuri Gagarin was blasted into a single orbit around the earth from the Baikonur Cosmodrome, and 108 minutes later his retro-rockets dropped the Vostok spacecraft into a paddock near a village called Smelovaka, and a woman, girl, and a cow watched as the spaceman emerged from his capsule into the brisk morning air.

"Have you really come from outer space?" asked the forester's wife of the strange orange-suited figure walking towards her.

While the Russians were celebrating their success, over on the other side of the Atlantic President John F. Kennedy was agonising over choosing a spectacular goal to gain American prestige in space. Still settling in after taking over from the Eisenhower administration, he was looking at a proposal originally presented to Eisenhower by the Army and Air Force, to land a man on the moon. The newly formed NASA had just put together a feasible study to achieve this goal.

"The cost," he said, "That's what gets me. Forty thousand million bucks and we don't even know if the damned thing will work."

Then, stung into action by Russia's successful flight, Kennedy announced to the world on the 25th of May,

66

The 26 metre antenna and operations building at Honeysuckle Creek.

1961, that the United States would land on the moon before the end of the decade. At that stage, they had 15 minutes of manned space flight experience with Alan Shephard's sub-orbital flight in Freedom 7, and a wealth of problems with their launch vehicles.

"Vivit Post Funera Virtus" — perhaps there is a message to the boys at the Hutchins School in the characteristics required of an astronaut by Dr. Robert Voas, the Mercury astronauts training director: Intelligence without genius, knowledge without inflexibility, a high degree of skill without overtraining, fear but not cowardice, bravery without foolhardiness, self confidence without egotism, physical fitness without being muscle-bound, a preference for participatory over spectator sports, frankness without blabbermouthing, enjoyment of life without excess, humour without disproportion, and fast reflexes without panic in a crisis.

With an average I.Q. of 136, these first astronauts were guinea pigs to determine the limits of human endurance, as no one knew what happened to people in space.

How much heat could a man stand? How much noise? How many balloons could he blow up before he collapsed? How long could he keep his feet in a bucket of iced water? How long could he run on a treadmill? The astronauts declared their worst experiences were with the psychologists — write 20 answers to the question "Who am I", and describe what you see when a blank sheet of paper was pushed in front of them (Pete Conrad, who was in Carnarvon for Gemini 3, told the psychologist, "It's upside down!")

So the Mercury Program, supported by tracking stations at Red Lake, Woomera, and Muchea, Perth, successfully orbited men around the earth, and the Gemini Program, supported by the Carnarvon Tracking Station, extended this capability to manouvre, 'walk', and live in space for up to two weeks.

In those days teams consisting of astronauts, flight engineers, and doctors (known as 'sir-johns') would fly out for the duration of the mission to control the tracking station. This policy was changed for the Apollo missions, when Carnavon and Honeysuckle Creek (especially built for Apollo at Canberra) were controlled from Houston.

Tough simulations continued though. Before every mission, a NASA Super Constellation would fly out with a team of specialists, and put the station through a gruelling series of simulated mission passes, studded with problems such as failing key equipment, holding vital messages back until the last moment, and selecting an important operator to be removed with a heart attack. The casualty had to be given first aid while his position was replaced. Simulations were one of the success factors of the Apollo program, the actual missions were relatively quiet after the simulations.

The Apollo period was unquestionably the most exciting era for all concerned, putting 12 men on the moon, 3 vehicles (Did you know the current speed record on the moon is 17 km per hour set by Apollo 11?), and a group of scientific packages, some of which are still transmitting, although we no longer track them.

NASA's budget peaked in 1965 with $US 5,250 million, taking 4.5% of the U.S. national budget, at a time when enormous efforts were being expended to develop the Apollo systems. This is illustrated by a letter from Kennedy to his Vice President, to quote one item: ''Are we working 24 hours a day on existing programs? If not, why not? If not, will you make recommendations.

"Are we working 24 hours a day on existing programs? If not, why not? If not, will you make recommendations to me as how work can be speeded up."

Although NASA's budget is now only 0.8% of the national budget, the Administration is on its knees almost begging for its existance, and spending a lot of effort justifying space programs and looking for spin-offs for the community.

After ten years of development, and two years of frustrating delays and budget traumas, on the 12th of April, 1981, the first space shuttle "Columbia" blasted off from Launch Pad 39A at the Kennedy Space Center on the 20th anniversary to the day of the first manned flight. All who saw the wonderful sight of Columbia sweeping around to a perfect landing at Edwards Air Force Base were again caught up in the excitement and glamour of space travel – but this time it was different – space no longer had a top priority rating, it has now matured. James A. Michener, well known author and space supporter (who paid a visit to the Canberra tracking stations this year) offered a Congressional testimony, saying: "I do not for a moment believe that the spiritual well-being of our nation depends primarily upon a successful space program. I am sure that we could, as a nation, attain great spiritual reassurance from rebuilding our cities or distributing our farm products better. But I also believe that there are moments in history when challenges occur of such a compelling nature that to miss them is to miss the whole meaning of an epoch. Space is such a challenge."

The Space Shuttle is taking this challenge head on and offering the generations to come ready access to space for whatever their forward thinking and imaginative members can propose for the benefit of all mankind — power generating platforms, manufacturing stations, whole communities living in space performingfunctions we have yet to imagine. Professor Mathewson, Director of Mount Stromlo Observatory, has proposed Australia fund a space telescope to be operated from the shuttle by Australian astronomers, to keep our astronomers at the forefront of progress.

Rick Gore in the 'National Geographic Magazine' aptly sums up the Space Shuttle: "Apollo and the planetary missions belonged to the age of space exploration. The shuttle begins the age of space exploitation."

Self at the servo console at Honeysuckle Creek during the Skylab era, helping out on shift towards the end of the Manned Space Flight period when staff levels were running low. It was a very busy time, as Honeysuckle was supporting Skylab, switching over to Deep Space between passes, and also tracking ALSEP, the scientific packages left on the moon by the Apollo astronauts. The base of the antenna can be seen through the window, and the signal from the ALSEP can be seen in the oscilloscope just right of centre. The picture was taken at night, so the ceiling lights are reflecting in the window.

THE HEREAFTER HOTEL

P. Wardle

The apartment was neat and comfortable, not at all like a machine designed for killing people.

For a few seconds after the door had locked itself behind him, Hart stood perfectly still, trying to identify the most likely sources of death. The kitchen was one area that obviously had to be avoided. Every particle of food, drop of water, or electrical appliance was suspect. Even the simple act of opening a cupboard might release a deadly cloud of gas into his face, and one slight intake of breath would be enough to

'If you want to stay alive', Hart thought, 'Keep out of the kitchen'.

From his position near the door he could see into the bathroom which also looked dangerous, there were too many fittings that could spring bad surprises. He was going to survive the mandatory seven days in the apartment, but to do so he would have to be extremely careful. The best plan was to make himself as comfortable as possible in the centre of the living room floor and to remain there, which wouldn't be easy.

He walked into the living-room and checked it out against his requirements. It measured roughly 10×10 with wall to wall carpeting, and was furnished with a settee, chairs and a small taBLe. There was an absence of windows on the cream-coloured walls except for a display screen on the wall above the electric fireplace. On the screen in pulsating amber lettering, were two words, 'Jury-Out'.

Hart decided that the table, positioned near the middle of the room, would have to be moved against one of the walls to give him the clear central space he needed. He pushed the table aside, finding that it slid fairly easily. When it was against the wall, he stood back and gauged the size of the area he had cleared. It appeared ample for his needs.

'This is too easy', he thought. Was there a chance that the carpet itself could be toxic. Or that spikes would thrust upward through the floor during the night? 'No, that wouldn't be fair', Hart decided. That way the apartment would be nothing but an execution chamber, and the whole point of the Capital Punishment Reform Act was that it removed the awful foreknowledge of death. There had to be some prospect of getting through the week alive.

A low chiming sound filled the apartment. Hart looked up at the screen. The wording had changed. It now read 'Jury voting'.

"That was quick," Hart said aloud, trying to suppress the alarm in his heart. He found that he was tense, alert and surprisingly confident. He was going to beat the system! His idea seemed foolproof, but it had been rather easy to conceive. Did this mean that if he could survive, anyone could? Or was there some other underlying factor he had overlooked?

'No', he thought. The Act of 1990 was passed to stop the inhumane way of making people pay for their crimes. Capital punishment was almost as inhumane as the crime itself. Telling a prisoner exactly when and how he was going to die, and then leaving him to sweat out his time. Now the dreadful certainty of death had been replaced by the challenge of a week in the apartment.

There was another chiming sound and the message on the screen was replaced by a new set of words 'Voting Completed — Await Verdict'. On the lower half of the screen a hand began erasing a sixty second clock.

The seconds ticked away each semingly longer than the last. Twenty seconds to go until the apartment declared war. What would the verdict be?

A shiver shot through Hart's spine as he heard the final chime that signalled the jury's verdict. He glanced involuntarily in the direction of the screen, then froze as he read the three words across the face of the tube. 'Verdict, not guilty'.

He was a free man! Hart got to his feet, took a last look at the apartment, gave a low chuckle of relief and strode triumphantly to the door. He grasped the door-knob, but it did not turn.

Instead a drop of poison was fired through the skin of Hart's palm, a poison so swiftly acting that he did not have time to realize he had been tricked by executioners who, in their determination to be humane, were not above telling a small lie.

ELEGY IN A STORM

Flared – nearly white Start reminder of the empty room living tomb, frozen in a flash A Glimpse of glare off steamy window Where the eucalypts arching in the gale slowly moan. Then dark, as quickly as the warmth retreats into a shocking volume. Blasting gales that pierce the wild flurry of the night naked mind left to strain for signs of fresh sheets, pelting at the drenched shingles. Raking eyes aiming at a furious storm As lost in rushed suburbia.

Shafts of sun are lifting the steam, from the drenched leaves and twigs and look! The lightnings left its reflection in the puddle! A. Barber VI

I sit in a chair and read the newspaper

Nothing seems correct, it's all insane,

I ponder and wonder, reading more and more,

12 cents these days gives me more than I bargained for. One article I couldn't read, a story that seemed to stammer.

I know now what is bad. I couldn't read of glamour. My instincts told me things outside are different from heaven.

Next time I will skip pages 1 - 6 and read 7.

CRASH

I never thought within my deepest thoughts, That day when asphalt seemed to fall Beneath my legs, weak-jelly limbs, That such a mar on my existence would occur.

A split second forward or back, would see Me walk onto the bus like every other day. But I was careless, rushing tired. A step, my head swung round and -There, before I can remember clear -A windscreen dazzling in the sun, A bumper bar - thick - ugly - black. A screech,

A slam.

Bolted to the spot.

Then rolling helplessly onto the bonnet, Over the roof - tumbled like a rag doll To the gravel.

A foul rubber smell,

The screech as the car halted,

Glass sprinkled like confetti

Blood No more.

A very successful camp was held at Buckland at the end of last year. For the first time in three years the weather was kind to the unit, which was able to put into practice all the training it had received during the home training parades. The Army erected a mobile shower and all cadets were able to wash off camouflage, dirt, etc. This shower was greatly appreciated by the unit.

The highlight of the camp was naturally the Bivouac, where contact drill etc. was practised.

This year home training parades have gone well. The senior N.C.O.s have done a good job in preparing lessons, and helping the young cadets.

We would like to congratulate Sgt. A. Tacey on receiving a Royal Military College Scholarship from Duntroon; and wish him all the best in his military life. C.W.

WEDNESDAY

During the year, Mr. Morton and Mr. Osborn organised visiting speakers to address the sixth form.

LOWER VI SPEAKERS

Several speakers addressed the Lower VI form this year on a variety of topics ranging from Computers to the T.C.A.E. The Lower VI is extremely grateful that people gave up their time to speak to us, and certainly the talks were useful in aiding students on their choice of career. Some of the topics spoken on were by Mr. Little, who described his varied life among computers, Mrs. Overton who addressed us on the T.C.A.E. in Launceston, Mr. Hayes who gave a most interesting account of economics, Mr. Williams who explained what an Engineer really does, Mr. Francis on the Hobart Tech. College and Mr. Cunningham, who described his career as a social worker with the Family Court. The Army, Navy and Air Force also said what a "lovely" time could be had in their various officer training schemes. The talks were certainly most interesting, I hope next year's Lower VI find them as worthwhile.

UPPER VI SPEAKERS

This year a large variety of Upper Sixth Form talks were organised - talks that were both very interesting and educational for the students. The subjects ranged from "The French Horn" with Barry Tuckwell, to "You and the Law" with Sgt. Fogarty. A topic that aroused much interest was the South-West and Tasmania's future power developments. This subject was debated by a number of speakers, putting to the students both points of view. All in all, this year's talks have been very interesting. The speakers were:

Mr. E.R. Henry "National Trust" Mrs. S. Eldridge "Epilepsv" Sgt. C. Fogarty "You and the Law" Capt. Thompson "Hobart Marine" Mr. J. Bennett "Legal Wisdom" Dr. Ginsberg "The Aged in our Society" Mr. N. Cretan "Avoiding money problems" Dr. R. Gibbs "Sports Medicine" "Chester" "Alcoholism" Rev. N. Sonners "Blindness" "Positive Living" Dr. H. Stanton Mr. W. Henry "Television in the '80's" Dr. M. Waters "Education and Life Chances" Mr. M. Hawes "Photography of the South West" Mr. G.J. Manning "A World within a World" Mr. M. Hodgman "Liberal Philosophy" "Uses of Industrial Gases" C.I.G. Dr. B. Brown "The Last Wild Rivers" Mr. B. Tuckwell "The French Horn" Mr. B. McLaughlin "Tasmania's future Power" Mr. N. Bills "Advanced Driving" Dr. P. Sharma "Education for Life"

BOARDING HOUSE REPORT

It has been a good year in the Boarding House and a good time has been had by all. This year saw two new masters enter the house, Mr. Werteimer, a veteran boarder returned to our ranks, and Mr. Skinner, our resident doctor (nearly) and intrepid aviator, joined us with Meril. Both masters have contributed to the smooth running of the Boarding House, along with the already existing masters Mr. Greenwood (sorry Mr. Goodwin) and Mr. McQueen our resident movie critic.

Dr. Stephens has carried out his usual fine job of keeping the peace and ensuring that the Boarding House runs smoothly. On behalf of all seniors I would like to thank Dr. Stephens and the masters as it has been a pleasure to live and work with them this year. Thanks must go also to the domestic staff ably led by Mrs. Swanson.

Getting back to the good times had by all, this year has seen many heartstopping Churchill Avenue crossings by the juniors to go to ''99'' – interesting skateboard acrobatics by the 2nd formers in the car park which was unappreciated by the Royal Hobart Hospital and some quarters of the School – notorious exploits by the 3rd formers at Moonah Bowls – the 4th formers content to sit and wait – the 5th formers well what can one say? actions speak louder than words! And finally for the 6th form, there have been a number of highlights to this year including – the boarding house formal complete with foam balls and all – many a good rural turn – and the formation of the Epping Forest Social Club.

Finally I would just like to wish next year's Captain of the Boarding House good luck and hope it turns out to be another successful year.

Shared experiences result in a sense of belonging, or sense of unity and a sense of achievement. 5 McQ can certainly look back on a year of such experiences. It may be that some of these experiences were not as "good" as they might have been but the successful, enjoyable ones more than make up for these.

A visitor to the form's production of a modified version of "Macbeth" commented that he could actually feel the warm, friendly atmosphere. As with any play performance a great deal of hard work was put into pre-performance preparation. Lines were learnt, costumes found or tailored, swords were manufactured, a witch's cauldron had to be found, sets were painted. Every form member responded well and it is little wonder that the night was the pleasure it was. It was probably the highligh of the form's year.

Some of us - most of us, remember vividly a certain Saturday in October not only because we slept all day but also because that sleep was haunted by the image of a ping-pong ball bouncing back and forth over a net. We raised $300.00 in our "Ping-Pong-a-Thon" to be donated to Austcare. This night was a real experience but I should think there would be some debate as to whether it should be endured again.

There was a rumour that the H.E.C. were going to send scouts to check Room 12, the form-room, to see if it contained any wild rivers worth damming because it certainly had every other ingredient necessary for a well-made wilderness, including a tent - even if it was upside dwn. The reason? 5McQ were out to win the classroom competition. Although the form established an early lead, 5F swam up from behind and the final result was a tie. Again the form had worked determinedly together with most satisfying results.

Of course, with all these events to organise many of the form periods became an experience in themselves. After all, we had to decide democratically whether we had a "musical walkathon", "drama-a-thon" or "ping-pong-a-thon" and then there was a heated discussion as to who should get the money. Once a week in form period during first term we listened to one another's favourite pop tunes with suitable explanations, and then some of our form-members were subjected to "Parkinson" type interviews with one or two interesting pieces of information being disclosed.

Yesterday we all went to see a production of "King Lear", today we are looking back at 1981 with, I hope, some satisfaction and tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow

NOT AGAIN!!

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

"Women's faults are many; men have two - everything they say and everything they do . ."

The first thing that impressed us at Hutchins, was their pink and black blazers and were even more so when we found out it was the same colour scheme as the gay liberationists (brought to our attention from a previous 'Head Prefect' of Hutchins).

We always looked forward to attending classes for we never knew what was in store for us - the frequent paper fights, the shrill pitch of loose dentures (whistling) faulty digital alarms and the gay banter ("chit-chat") among the lads.

We had many varied welcomings to Hutchins ranging from the storming out of teachers, to incessant giggling and snickers from back-row boys.

We're sure we provided much varied entertainment throughout the year (for each other) and we would like to close with this thought:

"When God made man, she was only practising."

Fahnies' Report (Fahan Matric Girls)

UP YOUR NOSE!

Well what can one say Art, Psych., Eco., Chem., English Lit., Australian, Drama, Maths. and German at Fahan and for what use.

Sentenced to a year's transportation of hard labour and many a raised nasal passage; Almost hypocritical there must be some doubt, even lingering suspicion associated with a school which offers a marijuana plant as an excuse for its official emblem. Maybe this is what they call keeping up with the times. Or is there some ulterior motive.

The so-called, but brave, staff attempted to infiltrate our minds with relevant intellectual material, but when they found this task beyond them, they were forced to resort to other tactics in their quest to raise us from the dregs of the academic gutter to the superior Fahan standard. Ha, Ha, Ha, Ha, Ha, Ha,

"Say, are not women truly then, styled, but shadows of us men".

- an interesting comment from Ben Johnson.

The innocent victims were perpetually bombarded with soul-destroying insults and wild accusations from all angles. Consoled and motivated by the words of Samuel Butler -

"The souls of women are so small that some believe they've none at all", we were forced to retaliate with our only weapon - well-timed and meaningful comments of praise for the Fahan establishment and its inhabitants.

Two of our more intelligent members found the lessons so unstimulating that they decided to pursue their academic interests at Metalwork, but for the rest, escape from this hell on earth was not so easy. Tennyson comes to mind here-

"For men at most differ as Heaven and Earth,

But women, worst and best, as Heaven and Hell".

ANNUAL HUTCHINS v COLLEGIATE FOOTBALL MATCH

On a cold and blustery Friday afternoon early in third term, a makeshift Hutchins 1st XVIII confronted a very butch and tough looking Collegiate 1st XXVIII. We had heard rumours that the girls had been training hard at Collegiate but due to short notice and a communication breakdown, our team lacked numbers (by about 40 to be precise).

Anyway, the game began at a furious pace with Hutchins scoring two or three quick goals but then the Collegiate "behind play" tactics came into hand - certain girls began to stand on our ruckman's feet, thus impeding his jump while other girls (notably R.B.) reverted to "smother" tactics, thus slowing the game down to their pace (snails pace) and upsetting our quick V.F.L. style game.

Collegiate began to apply pressure with their spy player (we wondered about his skirt was he for real?) making fast bruising runs down the centre. As the game wore on, the true Collegiate spirit came through with some of their players (especially J.L. and P.G.) beginning to form vicious and violent gangs and attacking poor unsuspecting Hutchins players while their backs were turned. The umpire, the Most Reverend J. Parsons, Dean of Hobart, was definitely the most biased umpire in the history of the game giving the girls kick after kick.

The game ended with Hutchins scoring many goals and a try from the rugby players, and Collegiate scoring one or two goals. However, nobody kept a score so although it was close finish, any Collegiate player will definitely tell you otherwise. In fact a few of their goals were kicked by defectors especially Jeff Triffitt who had some directional problems on the day, and Mr. Williamson, their spy player, definitely a man (?) with courage and good spirit to appear in what he did. Final scores:

COLLEGIATE REPORT

This year saw the re-introduction of Hutchins boys, travelling to Collegiate for lessons, for the first time after a 3 year break. Stu, Camby, Kip and Dart saw their artistic talents highlighted (well maybe not, but they tried hard). Speech and Drama was very worthwhile, despite many tantrums, disruptions, disputes, strikes, etc. with Diedre. Iain unfortunately had to miss an exam because mother had a relapse and the sheep caught milk fever (he was later seen at approximately 2.30, bushwalking towards Mt. Nelson). The class was maintained at a high level of humour by Doom and Stu. Alan Tacey and Robert Heggie ventured up for Bio. A. which "Tace" found very enjoyable, particularly before and after class. Social Psychology, did not live up to its name, although the students Jeff, Dave and Ian, found it very interesting.

COLLEGIATE GIRLS

For the first time in five years the braver Collegiate students, once again ventured onto the Hutchins set, not nervous and giggling but self-assured and certain of our goals (passing exams!).

For reasons best left unwritten, the classes that attracted our patronage were Chemistry, Physics, Accounting, Economics and Rural Science.

We encountered few problems, the most difficult ones proved to be initially establishing our superiority, and maintaining our seats at the back of the class, but after we overcame this, things ran relatively smoothly.

Looking back, our lessons at Hutchins were enjoyable and needless to say VERY different and we hope that we benefitted as much for going as Hutchins did having us there

MOUNT CARMEL REPORT

This year Hutchins has been enhanced by the presence of a number of Mt. Carmel girls. Each day we trek through the Middle School, trying to avoid being bombarded with balls, and flying comments.

The lessons have been entertaining and quite stimulating on the few occasions that we came. The current record for going to Hutchins is 69 seconds, held by Ruth Heiden (who doesn't even attend lessons). She found the prize wasn't worth two "BOB"

We look forward with great anticipation to every Activities Day when the 'boys' arrive in their second uniforms which consist of Moleskins, Blundstones, pin-striped shirts and home spun jumpers.

The attendance in accounting would have been even lower if it wasn't for Mr.Smith (thank you Bonds) and the Mighties (A special thank you to Marcus Elder's shoulders which kept Jane enthralled). Mr. Cripps provided endless enjoyment in our History lessons. Thanks to Mr. Osborn (Happy Days) Mr. Walsh ("but it's a new examiner, and you never know"), Mr. Rumble, Mr. Harris and Mr. Morton for all their help throughout the year. 'Keep it up boys'.

HUTCHINS AT MT. CARMEL

At the beginning of the year, seven Hutchins boys braved the relatively unknown confines of Mt. Carmel. After being "welcomed" by Sister Eileen, we resigned ourselves to a year's accounting. However, some of us, including a girl, didn't last the distance and three dropped out due to the immense pressure forced upon us. This left a class of three girls and five boys. Obviously the girls had not encountered boys of our calibre before and we quickly began to dominate all class activities.

All sub-committes have power to co-opt, ex officio members President and Secretary.

Functions for the 1981/82 year have been printed in "Magenta & Black".

AROUND THE BRANCHES

Wynne Hay and the Headmaster attended the Huon, North and North West functions and, also, the Victorian & New South Wales re-unions, whilst Max Staunton-Smith was present at the Queensland gathering. Unfortunately commitments at home prevented the president or the Headmaster being able to fit in visits to Western or South Australia. The dates for mainland gatherings in 1982 are now being planned. To try and fit in inter-state visits around Anniversary time creates problems.

Branch officers 1981/82:

North-West: President - Noel Hammond; Hon. Secretary: Tim Muller.

Northern: Peter Anderson, President; Hon. Secretary: A.E. (Tony) Gibson.

Huon: Wynne Hay, President; Hon. Secretary: David Jackson.

Mainland: Queensland: John Gibson has taken over from Denbigh Morris, whilst Paul Mitchell has given way to Damon Thomas, 21 Ashburton St., Chapel Hill, 4069. John's current address by the way is 6/124 Moray St. New Farm, 4005.

Victoria: Harry Shepherd, 76 South Parade, Blackburn again Secretary.

New South Wales: David Salter, Turramurra and Greg Bateman, 17 Valley Rd., Lindfield.

South Australia: David Lane has returned to S.A., 5 Burke Street, Tusmore, and Peter Denholm's address is P.O. Box 263 Stirling.

Western Australia: get in touch with Angus Johnson, 17 Tyrell Street, Nedlands.

Canberra: Scott Bennett, Dept., of Political Science, School of General Studies, A.N.U. Canberra.

Numberous remarks are made about this publication and there is no doubt that members of the Association appreciate copies even if some of the news is not the best — obituaries.

LODGE NOTES

Former students at the Hutchins School, as well as past and present members of the staff and of the Board of Management, have been for years active members of the Hutchins Old Boys' Masonic Lodge. For the present year the reigning Master is Wor. Bro. Richard Penwright, who has the loyal support of the following office-bearers: I.P.M., W.Bro. J.C. McPhee; S.W., Bro. Picton Hay; J.W., Bro. I.B. Perry; Chaplain, Bro. T.J. Bennison; Asst. Chap., V.W.B. Canon G.N.B. Lennard; Treasurer, V.W. Bro. F.J.E. Johnson; Secretary, V.W.Bro. J.D. Moir; D.C., W.Bro. I.R. McIntosh; Asst. D.C., W.Bro. T.G. Young; S.D., Bro. D.E. Bennison; J.D., Bro. R.L. Avery; Org., V.W.Bro. J.L. Broadby; I.G., Bro. G.R.A.Dick; Tyler, Bro. J.M. Boyes; Sen. Std., Bro. R.M. Camm; Std., Bros. R.C. Cartledge and D.B.L. Ramritu; Auditors, W.Bro. H.A. Kerr and Bro. T.A. Wise; Committee of Management, W. Bros. E.W. Ducrow, K.R. Godfrey, J.F. Millington and R.H. Purden, and Bros. R.A. Biggs and T.B. Murdoch.

Subject of course, to the normal qualifications for membership of the Masonic Order, and in addition to the qualifications mentioned in the first sentence above, there may be accepted into the Lodge, old scholars of any independent secondary school provided that such school be deemed by the Lodge to be equivalent to the Hutchins School, also those who by their direct connection with or manifest interest in and support of the Hutchins School are deemed by the Committee worthy of recommendation. Many brethren have become members of the Lodge by affiliating as members of other Lodges.

The late Mr. R.N. Butler (known by his many friends as "Rusty") left a legacy of $500 to the Lodge (of which he had been the foundation secretary at its consecration in 1926); the sum will be invested and the proceeds used by the 86 Lodge to donated the annual "R.N. Butler Memorial Prize" to a student in the Middle School of Hutchins.

DOWN THROUGH THE AGES

Sons of John Kerr: Alan, after working with an automobile company for some time, is now manager of the Portsmouth Branch of a National Motor Factory Company, the youngest Branch Manager in the U.K. Married Phillipa Jackson, of Shillington, Hertfordshire at the local village church. Miles, who ranks with the ''longest inhabitants of Hutchins'', (1957/71), after managing a hotel in Bermuda, is running a Trophy Inn, in Cheltenham, Gloucestershire. Websters Travel has expanded considerably and now has Philip Ducat, as State Manager. It is most appropriate that the first stained glass window in the Chapel depicts ''The Good Shepherd'' and is in memoray of Canon Charles Brammall. All who knew ''S.C.B.'' will consider the memorial window most appropriate. Kim Newstead has been appointed general sales and marketing manager, Stanley Tools. He joined the company as State Sales Manager in 1972. Bill Dansey, Nadi, Fiji, undertook a three months intensive course in Food and Beverage Management early in the year, at the Park Royal Motel, Brisbane. Hamish Lindsay has made a name for himself in this space age, designed and executed the implementation of the Tidbinbilla Tracking Station. Advice has been received that George Hodgson will be joining the rest of the family in Perth, W.A. before the end of the year.

Gordon Dean, who, has been in charge of the School of Hospitality, has been appointed Director of Tourism. Clyde Timmins, formerly AMP, Sydney, now domiciled on the shores of Lake Tuggerah. Bowls secretary of the Tonkley RSL Club and Publicity Officer.

Greg Cornwall, Fiji, has been promoted to the position of Manager, Food and Beverage, of the luxurious Regent, Nadi. Memory seems to bring to mind that John C. Hay has a similar position on the Gold Coast. Noticed amongst the University etc. conferring of degrees (E. & O.E.): Bachelor of Arts — Marc Lacock; Bachelor of Science: Noel P. Swan (Biochemistry), Greg N. Lay, John A. Goodwin, B.A. (English); Bachelor of Surveying: John M. Bamford; Bachelor of Engineering: Campbell R. Middleton; Bachelor of Economics: Kenneth J. We regret to record the death of the Venerable Charles W. Whonsbon-Aston. After being absent from the School environment for well nigh 60 years, it was apparent that although his stay at Hutchins did not warrant a mention in a long article in the "Sydney Morning Herald", a number of Old Boys picked up the fact that "Bunny" had departed this life. "Bunny" always considered 1923 on of "those" years, scholaristically and sporting, including the Rhodes Scholar. Premierships to come our way being cricket, football, rowing, tennis, swimming, life saving, including three State titles, 2nd in athletics and did not compete in cross country — school visit to Melbourne. Canon Frank Downie has retired, as Rector of Campbell Town. Now living in Hobart. He has been inducted as Warden of the Australian Order of St. Luke.

Our congratulations to His Excellency, the Honourable Sir Stanley Burbury (1921-2518). He has been made a Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George. Already KCVO, KBE. It is twenty five years since His Honour the Chief Justice of one day, laid the Foundation Stone of the Junior School. And, it was a wretched day, everything except sun. Our former School Captain, president of the O.B.A. and Board Chairman has been present in an official capacity on many occasions when further development of the Nelson Road site has been handed over to the Board of Management.

The Taroona sub-branch of the Ex-Servicemen's Club has recognised the work of Angus M. Henry - Life Membership.

SPORTS CLUBS

FOOTBALL: In the 1980 magazine appeared these words "Prospects for the 1981 season are bright". How often do such prognostications fall about writers ears. Well, the club won the 1st title in 1932 and the last game in its division of the TAFL (S/D) fifty years later found another premiership coming our way. Last year's magazine recorded the winners of our perpetual trophies, being cross referenced to previous magazines. P.S.O.B.A. premiers: 1932, 1933, 1935, 1936, 1938, 1940, 1946. Winners of the Conder Challenge Shield 1936 and 1938, the only Southern side to win against the North (2 out of 3 challenges were mounted).

T.A.F.L. (Southern Division premiers 1961,1963, 1964. State premiers 1961 and 1963. TAFL (S/D) "B" Section premiership 1972. TAFL (S/D) Old Scholars section premiership 1981.

Winners of the "Howard Medal" 1948 and 49: E.E. Rodwell; 1950: K.E. Cossum; 1964: B. Palfreyman; 1965: A.Andrews.

1981 trophy winners: Memorial trophies - Arthur Walch, Ian Trethewey (B&F), W.H. Mason-Cox (Most determined): Richard Fazackerley; - David Corney (Most Deserving): Anthony Read; John Thompson (Services to Club): Barry Jackman; Scott Palfreyman: Annual trophies: Best 1st year: Andrew Baker: Coach's trophy: Charles Brothers; 200 games: Clive Simpson (joins Brian Aherne and Nigel Johnston); 100 games; Henry Betlehem; Stephen Bastick; Best in Finals: Stewart Palfreyman; Originals trophy, best in Grand final: Michael Dermoudy; B. & F. Reservs: Leigh Edwards; Most Determined: Tim Beard; Coach's trophy: Jim McCorurade. After three years as president, Clive Simpson has handed over to Leith Thompson. Other Officerselected for 1982 are: Patrons: President HSOBA, Headmaster; Vice-Pesidents: Charles Brothers, Tony Roberts; Secretary: Peter Lewis; Treasurer: Robert Avery; A/Secretary: Peter Hopkins; Club delegate to TAFL (S/D): Richard Sharpe; Committee: Peter Eslake, James Ikin, Barry Jackman, three more to be elected; 1982 coach: Not vet announced.

CRICKET: Too early to forecast prospects for 1981/82 season, but we have hopes, fielding two teams. Challenge matches against Old Launcestonians, Sunday 23rd February. Officers 1981/82: Patrons: President: HSOBA, Headmaster; President: C. Wilkinson; Vice-Presidents: D. Eddington, I. McIntosh, N. Johnston, D. Brammall, J. Munro, D. McDougall, M. Sansom; Life Members: R.W. Vincent, G.A. McKay, M.S. Bull, R.R. Mann, J.R. Tunbridge, N.R. Johnston. Secretary: T. Waley; Treasurer: D. Hughes; Committee: I. Fraser (capt. Lions), D. Brammall (capt. Blacks), N.Lay (V/CL), M. Arnold; Executive: President, Captain Lions, Secretary, Treasurer; Delegate SOSCA: I. Fraser.
